Driving Conditions Hazardous

Cold May Dip Near Zero; Snow Drifts Block Roads

Near - zero temperatures were forecast for the Tri - State district tonight, increasing the hazardous conditions of highways which were drifting in many places after another night of snow squalls and biting wind.

A cold front swept into the Ohio Valley early Friday night, dropping the mercury to zero in rural areas, then moved on after depositing nearly an inch of snow on top of the 6-inch accumulation from Thursday night's sneak storm.

Oddly, the cold mark of 7 above yesterday at Dam 8 was set between 6 and 7 p. m. — then the temperature began rising slowly, reaching 15 degrees at midnight.

The low point of severe cold usually comes about dawn. The dam had a reading of 11 degrees at 7 a. m. today.

Ice Runout Starts With River Choked

Ice choked the Ohio River shore - to - shore until the runout started today.

Attendants at Dam 8 at Newell said most of the ice came from the Monongahela River.

All dams in the Pittsburgh district had been lowered earlier in the week in preparation for the runout.

The State Highway Department's garage at Leetonia recorded zero early last night about the time the dam was registering the 7 above.

The Ohio weatherman said today's high range will be a sub-freezing 10 to 15 degrees and that the mercury will plunge to 2 to 7 above tonight.

The thermometer plunged to the 3 above mark at Cincinnati and Dayton 4 at Akron 7 at Columbus 9 at Cleveland and 11 at Toledo.

Making it seem colder than it actually was were strong winds which picked up loose snow and swirled it into drifts.

Cleveland today had an accumulation of 7 inches of snow; Youngstown and Akron 6 inches; Columbus 2 inches and Cincinnati 1.

Frequent snow flurries were forecast throughout the day with heavier squalls expected in Lake, Geauga and Ashtabula Counties. The flurries will continue Sunday in Columbiana County.

Wheeling Man Kidnaped In 3-State Ride

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A 57-year-old Wheeling, W. Va., truck driver told police here today he was kidnaped by two men and forced at gunpoint to drive for more than six hours on a trip that went into three states.

Francis Gehring said he was returning to Wheeling with an empty truck from a trip to Uniontown, Pa., Friday night when he was flagged down by two men having trouble with a car in a snowdrift along the road.

Gehring said the men jumped in his truck and pointed a gun at him. He said he drove east to Washington, Pa., then west to Wellsville, W. Va., north to Steubenville, Ohio, and on to Youngstown.

The men robbed him of $79, tied his hands to the steering wheel and left him and the truck in an East Side parking lot, Gehring said. He yelled for help and attracted the attention of a patrolman making the rounds at 1 a. m.

$50,000 Fire Loss

CLEVELAND (AP)—An acetylene torch ignited spilled gasoline and caused a $50,000 fire Friday at the Economy Buick Co. body and repair shop in East Cleveland. Six employees in the shop drove 10 new cars from the two-story brick building. One fireman, John Bradshaw, 32, was overcome by smoke.

Southland Shivering Too

Snow, Biting Wind Cripple Eastern Half Of Country

By The Associated Press
 Stormy weather and biting cold struck crippling blows across broad sections in the eastern half of the country today.

A dozen or more communities in northeastern Indiana and lower western Michigan were digging out of a freak snow storm which nearly paralyzed some cities Friday. A state of emergency was declared in South Bend, Ind., which was hit by 17 inches of snow.

Ice and snow storms created hazardous driving conditions in many sections of the Northeast. Blizzard conditions were forecast in parts of the lower Great Lakes region.

Temperatures tumbled to 25 degrees below zero in northern Minnesota as the huge mass of icy air spread eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

The Southland shivered in the fresh surge of frigid air, with temperatures dropping into the teens in northern sections of Alabama and Georgia. It was freezing in northern Florida.

The biggest drop in temperatures in the past 24 hours was in the Middle and South Atlantic states. Washington, D.C., shivered in readings around 10 above this morning compared to a fairly mild 57 degrees 24 hours earlier.

Temperatures averaged about 30 degrees or more lower in most areas from southern Pennsylvania to northern Florida.

Comparatively mild weather persisted in most of New England during the night, with readings in the 20s and 30s, but much colder air was headed into the region.

The freak snowstorm spread across areas in Michigan and Indiana for 65 miles from the southeastern corner of Lake Michigan.

Winds of 20 or more m.p.h. whipped the heavy snowfall in the South Bend area into huge drifts. However, maintenance crews worked throughout the night, clearing most of the main roads.

$2,000 Blaze Routs Family At Wellsville

A $2,000 blaze routed a family of four from their beds early today and gutted one end of their house trailer on 18th St. Heights, Wellsville.

Firemen were called at 12:25 a. m. when a faulty oil heating stove set fire to the 1952 model trailer owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taggart. They fled before the flames, along with a daughter and a granddaughter.

Nine volunteers responded to the call. The loss is insured, firemen said.

Some of the contents as well as the interior walls were burned.

Both Agree Exchange Of Views Useful

Khrushchev's Note Hopes For Better U.S.-Red Relations

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Anastas I. Mikoyan discussed U.S.-Soviet differences for an hour and 45 minutes today and Mikoyan said they agreed they had a "useful exchange of views."

The Soviet deputy premier delivered a personal message from Premier Nikita Khrushchev wishing Eisenhower good health and "success on the road to better relations between our two countries."

"The President thanked me and asked me to convey similar warm greetings to our prime minister," Mikoyan reported.

Secretary of State Dulles and other officials participated in the conference which began at 9 a. m. (EST) in Eisenhower's office.

Mikoyan, wearing his usual outdoor dress of dark grey overcoat and blue plaid scarf, walked into a room where reporters hastily gathered after the conference.

It had been generally expected that the meeting with Eisenhower would last at least two full hours since about 50 per cent of the time was devoted to translations between the Russian and English languages.

Mikoyan began by saying he supposed the newsmen had a "shower of questions" ready. But, he said, he would not be able to answer them because as all could see "I have my coat on all ready and am not prepared to hold a press conference."

"I can say we held an exchange of views on many matters of mutual interest. We did not conduct negotiations but tried to find the positions of our countries on many matters," Mikoyan said.

"This was not a negotiation but a useful exchange of views. At the end, the President, the Secretary of State and we all came to the conclusion that the exchange was useful."

"I conveyed to the President greetings on behalf of Prime Minister Nikita Khrushchev, best wishes for his good health and success on the road to better relations between our two countries. The President thanked me and conveyed his warm greetings to our prime minister."

After the brief statement, Mikoyan broke off the session with reporters saying in English: "Thank you and good by." Eisenhower and Mikoyan presumably discussed the problems of Berlin.

Embezzlement Charge Found

Ex-Palestine Bank Employee Is Indicted

EAST PALESTINE — A former local bank employee was one of six indicted by a Federal Grand Jury at Cleveland Friday on charges of embezzlement.

George Elick was charged with taking a $1,300 loan application in November 1956 while he was a cashier at the Union Commercial & Savings Bank.

Elick used another man's name to process a loan and was making payments, according to the complaint. The incident came to light when he was hospitalized because of an illness and the other person received a due notice from the bank.

The money was repaid the bank from stock held by Elick. He also was a member of the East Palestine School Board.

Government attorneys said this was the largest single batch of embezzlement indictments in years.

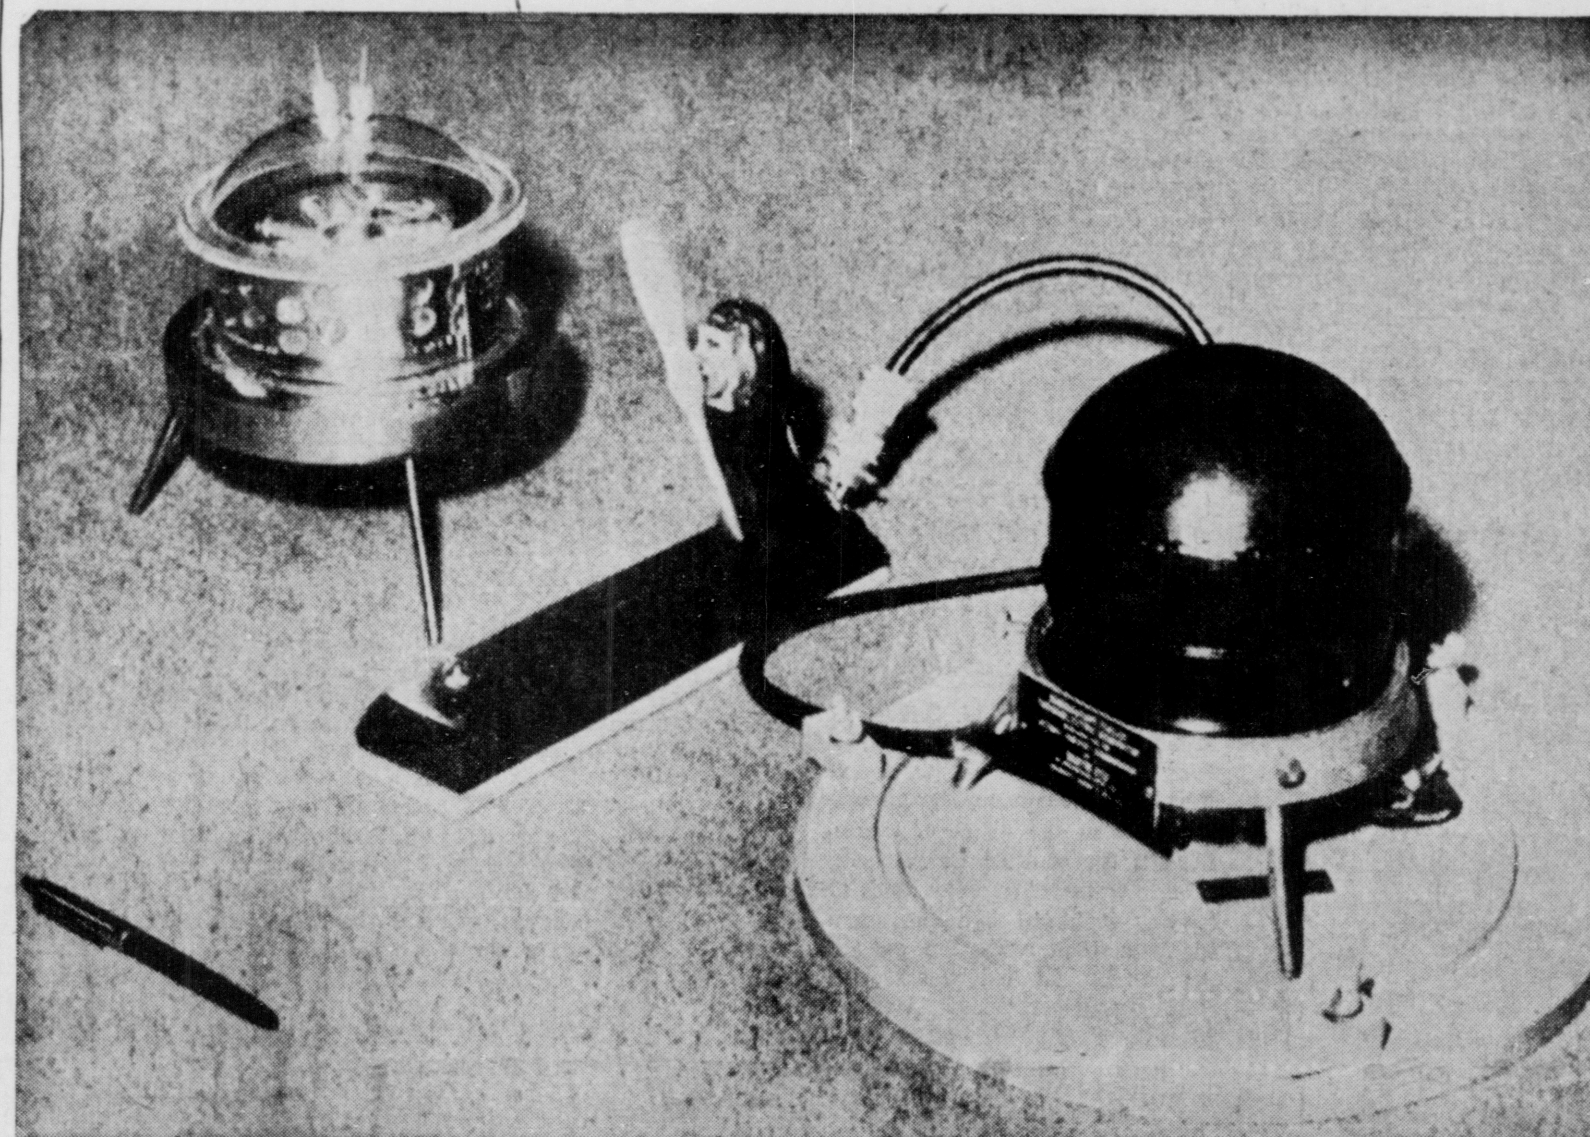

Also indicted was Mrs. Mildred E. Youngman, 41, of Kent, who is accused of taking $11,446 while a teller at a drive - in window for the City Bank of Kent.

Could Help Man In Conquest Of Space

Tiny 5-Pound Atomic Power Plant Launches New Era For Electricity

TWO 5-POUND ATOMIC GENERATORS which were unveiled Friday afternoon at the White House are shown compared with a fountain pen in the foreground. Experts of the Atomic Energy Commission hailed the generator as a "significant breakthrough" in producing electric power from heat. The generator at right is shielded by a cover and is driving the propeller which was placed between the two generators. (UPI Telephoto)

WASHINGTON (AP)—An atomic device with no moving parts and small enough to be tucked in a handbag may be the forerunner of means of providing the electricity to help man in space.

This was one result foreseen today of a new method to provide power over lengthy periods without the aid of batteries.

The new development, hailed by the Atomic Energy Commission as "highly significant," was announced Friday at the White House.

Councilman, Newcomer File For Primary

A Republican incumbent and a Democratic aspirant became the first members of their respective parties to file for nominations as councilmen - at - large in East Liverpool at the May 5 primaries.

The new entrants are A. Stanley Kidder, asking his second term in the at - large post and third term on Council, and John A. Melvin, who is making his first bid for public office.

Mayor Harold Smith of Salem also filed today for renomination on the Republican ticket.

Kidder is the first incumbent councilman to announce for a new term. He was elected councilman-at-large in January, 1958, after serving as First Ward councilman in 1954-55.

An employee of the Crucible Steel Co., Kidder is a member of the Official Board at the Boyce Methodist Church, Pennova Odd Fellows Lodge 880 and East Liverpool Masonic Lodge.

Married and the father of a daughter, he resides at 2112 Michigan Ave.

At least two other Democrats have announced for at - large posts but Melvin is the first to file.

Melvin is a co - owner of J. K. Drugs, Inc., formerly Rand's, and is a member of the Moose and Elks Lodges. He is married, the father of a son and daughter, and resides at 2810 St. Clair Ave.

2 Die In Hotel Fire

DETROIT (AP)—A three-alarm fire raced through the Tuller Hotel in downtown Detroit today and police said first reports were that at least two people had been killed and a number of others injured.

Col. Jack Armstrong, deputy chief of the AEC's aircraft reactor division, today predicted such batteryless power might also be used in the future to:

Provide juice for instruments in large, unmanned satellites for long periods of time; furnish shelter heat and power for communications and weather instruments in remote areas like the arctic and antarctic; provide new types of navigational aid for air and sea traffic; and allow use of radio-controlled beacons which might forecast the development of hurricanes.

The device employs radioactive polonium 210 as a heat source and chemicals which convert the heat into electricity without any moving parts.

The AEC calls it SNAP 3 — short for system for nuclear auxiliary power.

The development at present consists of a five-pound device, 4 1/2 inches in diameter and 5 1/2 inches high — somewhat resembling a ship's barometer. Officials estimate the weight could be cut to three pounds.

The model cost $15,000. But AEC spokesmen say it probably could be turned out on a production basis for about $200 per unit.

Tecnnicians for the AEC, which sponsored the development, said the device is the most efficient for its particular purpose known to exist anywhere—including the Soviet Union.

The device is designed primarily for use as a vastly longer lasting substitute for batteries in space satellites.

250 Reported Already Shot

Rebel Chief Estimates 450 Will Be Executed In Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro estimates that 450 persons will die before the current wave of executions ends in Cuba.

Already 205 persons have been reported shot on charges of crimes against the people during the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista. Cuban prisons recently held an estimated 5,000 to 6,000 more for trial on similar charges but some have been released and others given jail terms.

Castro gave his estimate to a crowd of about 10,000 in front of the presidential palace Friday night. He called for a rally of half a million persons in Havana next Wednesday to signify approval of the executions.

The Cuban people generally have applauded the trials and executions. Police broke up 200 persons in front of a police station Friday demonstrating for lynching of one suspect.

The actions have aroused sharp criticism in the United States and other countries, however. Castro invited foreign newsmen and diplomats to attend the trials to check their fairness.

Newspapers in Brazil, Peru, Ecuador, Argentina and Costa Rica have called for a halt to the bloodshed. The Uruguayan representative to the United Nations appealed to Provisional President Manuel Urrutia to stop the killings. Other Latin-American delegates at the U.N. reportedly are planning a similar appeal. U.S. Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) suggested in Washington that Castro invite U.N. observers to check the trial and execution methods.

Some U.S. and Cuban businessmen and industrialists are paying advance taxes to help the revolutionary government, the New York Times reported. A dispatch from Havana said a treasury official estimated about three million dollars had been paid in advance in recent days.

The Cuban government named Havana lawyer Ernesto Dihigo as Cuban ambassador to the United States.

It was reported in Washington that career diplomat Philip A. Bonsal, presently U.S. ambassador to Bolivia, will be the new American ambassador.

Searchers who were hampered by stormy waters said many of those in the plane presumably were trapped inside and drowned.

Among those on the passenger list were Eduardo Braun Menendez, one of Argentina's most famous scientists, and Dr. Jose M. Zadra, another well-known scientist. There was no immediate confirmation that they actually had been aboard.

Cleanup Continues In Freight Derailement

Some work was being continued today by crews of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. to clear away wreckage in the 31-car freight train derailement Friday morning about a half mile east of Kensington. Damage was estimated at $250,000.

Cars were strewn over both tracks of the main line. One line was opened last night at 7:30 but the other is not expected to be cleared before Monday. About 150 men working at the scene were hampered by cold winds and heavy snow.

Fourteen cars carried various cargoes including petroleum, steel, coffee, and cement, while the remainder were empty.

None of the crewmen was injured. The derailement took place near the middle of the 72-unit freight and the locomotive remained on the tracks.

51 Lose Lives In Argentina Plane Crash

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — An Argentine airliner with 52 persons aboard crashed into the Atlantic Ocean Friday night off the seaside resort of Mar del Plata. Only one survivor was found.

Almost four hours after the vacation flight crashed a man was found alive on the beach, his clothes burned or ripped off. All others on the twin-engine plane apparently perished. Only three bodies were recovered in predawn darkness.

Searchers who were hampered by stormy waters said many of those in the plane presumably were trapped inside and drowned.

Among those on the passenger list were Eduardo Braun Menendez, one of Argentina's most famous scientists, and Dr. Jose M. Zadra, another well-known scientist. There was no immediate confirmation that they actually had been aboard.

Blast Of Metal Kills 3 In Duquesne Steel Mill

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three workmen were killed today in an explosion at the nearby Duquesne works of U.S. Steel Corp.

A company spokesman identified the victims as Albert Chorey, 34, of Port Vue; Homer W. Maley, 57, of Duquesne; and Petra Jenca, 59, of Duquesne.

The victims were working in a pig iron building of the blast furnace department.

A company spokesman said a ladle of molten iron apparently had upset, touching off an explosion of some type.

The blast apparently killed the three men instantly. Nobody else was in the building, and there were no witnesses.

Freedom Man Jailed For Death After Fight

BEAVER — Samuel S. Baker, 23, Freedom R. D. truck driver, is being held in jail on a charge of voluntary manslaughter in connection with the death of Robert Burlett, 28, of Fair Oaks.

Burlett died Thursday and an autopsy indicated injuries received in a fight with the suspect Dec. 29. Burlett had been treated at the Rochester General Hospital after the fight, which occurred at the home of a Freedom district widow.

Baker was given a hearing Friday night before Justice of the Peace A. L. Joseph of Rochester, where the suspect was jailed.

Consultant Selected For School Test Group

LISBON — Dr. Joseph F. Swartz, head of the Department of Education at Youngstown University, will be the consultant for the county schools testing committee and will meet with the administrators at their roundtable Wednesday, Jan. 28, at 6 p. m. at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon.

Ralph Myers, principal at Fairfield - Waterford Schools, and a member of the testing committee, will preside.

Boy Killed By Car

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—An automobile struck and killed Raymond Dougherty Jr., 7, in front of his home in suburban Oregon Friday. The driver, who was not held, said the boy darted into the street in front of the car which skidded more than 100 feet on icy pavement before stopping.

Multibillion Shapeup In U.S.

New Market Will Remold Europe's Economic 'Life'

Three thousand miles away, but right in America's commercial backyard, a vast economic upheaval is taking place — the Common Market being formed by six European nations. It will remold Europe's economic life and, ultimately, will mean a multibillion-dollar shake-up in U.S.—European commercial relations. This is the first of three articles, condensed from a series on this economic milestone by a writer of The Journal of Commerce.

By JEROME OELBAUM
NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (NANA)—On Jan. 1, 1959, France, Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg took the first major steps toward creating their European Community, or European Common Market, as it is more widely known.

Whether these six form an association helping the rest of Western Europe through the British-sponsored Free Trade Area or go it alone, the fact remains that the new year opened an experiment in economic union so bold that it would have been dismissed as visionary only a decade ago.

EVEN AT THIS point, the six governments' venture, formalized in a treaty signed March 25, 1957, takes a considerable play of imagination to grasp in its entirety.

All tariffs and other trade restrictions on these nations' mutual commerce will be progressively reduced over a 12 to 15-year period until they are finally eliminated.

The six will gradually adopt a single set of tariffs for trade with outside countries and negotiate as a single bloc with other nations.

Through a European social fund and a European investment bank, the six will jointly finance the retraining and adaptation of workers hurt in the march toward free trade and back up with loans and guarantees industrial development projects in the Common Market area and in the members' overseas territories.

The governments will also take measures to allow a free flow of capital and labor throughout the community.

Eventually, an Italian laborer, for example, could take a job in Germany or France without losing any social security benefits and would be able to work alongside Germans or Frenchmen on equal terms. A Dutch lawyer could open an office in Italy and practice there with much the same ease as his Italian counterpart.

The administration of this vast system will be entrusted to new supra-national bodies, some of which will be shared with the six's European coal and steel community and Euratom. A parliamentary assembly of 142 delegates who eventually will be elected by direct universal suffrage; a council of ministers, one from each state; an executive commission of nine men; and a court of justice.

IN SHORT, some 164 million people, long divided by fierce economic and political rivalries, are aiming to create a union whose closest parallel can be found in the union of the United States.

To say that a program of this magnitude and daring — if carried out according to its original terms — will have far-reaching implications both for Europe and the rest of the world would seriously understate the situation. In fact, it is so "big" that there are American businessmen dealing with Europe who question whether the six governments will keep to their timetable.

There is always the danger that one, two or more of the Common Market countries at some point will be frightened into retreat by the wholesale economic changes required.

But it would be equally dangerous for U.S. businessmen — even those who do not at present sell goods in Europe — to ignore the Common Market, for there can be no doubt that it will have a profound influence on Europe's commercial relations with the United States.

THE CLUE to what the Common Market means and what its members will or will not do in carrying out their commitments lies less in the day-to-day political events that precipitated its formation than in basic economic trends.

The underlying force is believed by many to be the tremendous advance in technology during and since World War II. Capital equipment became more productive and could not be completely utilized unless markets were broadened.

At first, this output could be absorbed by the tremendous requirements of postwar reconstruction. This phase ended about 1950. At the same time, the refinement of production methods necessitated an increasing specialization which could only be financed if plants could count on a large and assured marketing area.

The Common Market, essentially, is designed to give European industry that assurance.

Hearing Postponed By Schuck's 'Rage'

BEAVER — Hearing of an appeal for a new trial for Arthur G. Schuck, convicted slayer of two men, was postponed Friday when he went into a rage in his cell.

Schuck "exploded" when he said he did not know of the time of the hearing and was dressed only in bedroom slippers, a T-shirt and a pair of trousers.

The hearing will be held Jan. 31 at 9:30 a. m. Schuck, a Baden electrician, was convicted Sept. 20 for the murder of Vincent Quigley, 34, of Economy and William Engel, 44, of Ambridge. He was given the death penalty.

Adult Night Classes Planned At Wellsville

Supt. S. E. Daw of Wellsville said that adult night classes will be offered in shorthand and typing on Mondays from 7 to 9 p. m. for a 10-week period at the high school, beginning Monday.

John Polesky, commercial department head, will be in charge. Another instructor is expected to be named. The fee is $8 for the 10 weeks, Daw said.

Drive To Organize Sears Employees Slated

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A nationwide drive to organize employees of Sears, Roebuck & Co., will begin Jan. 27, Teamsters' Union Vice President M. W. (Dusty) Miller said here Friday.

Miller was named to head the national drive by President James R. Hoffa.

Weather

E. O. Harsh, supervisor at the Leetonia garage, said drifting on highways was general throughout the county last night as the blustery winds, estimated at 15-to 20-mile velocity, piled the snow and added to the discomfort from the frigid weather in the second cold wave of the new year.

The State Weather Bureau said driving conditions were generally hazardous in Northeast Ohio due to the drifting and blowing snow. The State Highway patrol said roads and highways northeast of Sandusky, Bucyrus, Lancaster and St. Clairsville are snow-covered, icy and dangerous.

The 40-m.p.h. speed limit signs were out on the entire length of the Ohio Turnpike.

Main highways in other parts of the state were snow and ice covered in spots. The patrol warned that north-south highways also had considerable drifting in most sections.

Five crews of the state garage worked most of the night chindering and plowing and 10 to 12 crews returned to the state routes in the county this morning. They had worked almost continuously since the snowstorm struck Thursday night.

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported heavy drifting during the night on all north-south highways, such as Routes 7, 45, 170, 164 and 9.

Snow plows went into action about midnight to clear the drifts and many of the roads would not have been passable but there was very little traffic, officers said.

The biggest traffic tieup was on Route 7 at Rogers which closed with drifts about 1 a. m. and was not opened for about three hours. In some places, the snow drifted to the depth of two feet, officers said.

All major highways were reported icy and snow covered in spots while all secondary roads are covered with ice.

The County Highway Department was fighting drifts this morning on county roads after working until 11 Friday night, according to John Neill Jr., superintendent.

All highways were open but there was only one-way traffic at some spots, due to the blowing and drifting. He said he expects to have all roads clear by late this afternoon but they will remain slippery in spots.

The Pughtown garage of the West Virginia Road Commission reported today primary roads in Hancock County were in "pretty good" shape but drivers were warned to use chains. Crews were plowing secondary roads this morning.

The Hancock County Sheriff's office at New Cumberland reported roads snow packed, icy and hazardous.

In Western Pennsylvania, the Carnegie Barracks of the State Police reported trucks on Route 22 were having trouble due to ice and packed snow. Traffic was reported moving without much trouble on Route 30, the Parkway, near Pittsburgh.

The Rochester Barracks reported its roads snow covered with snow drifted in some parts and driving hazardous.

All roads are "very bad," the Wintersville State Highway Patrol reported today. The main highways are ice covered while some secondary roads have been cut down to one-way traffic because of heavy drifting, especially in rural districts.

Jefferson County highway crews have been working around the clock, spreading ashes and using snow plows to open drifts, officers said.

1 Killed, 23 Hurt In Train, Truck Crash

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A northbound passenger train collided with a truck loaded with steel rods in a flaming crash at a prairie crossing Friday, killing the truck driver and injuring 23 train passengers and crewmen.

Sheets of flames enveloped the twisted wreckage of the truck and licked at passenger cars as the Rock Island Railroad's "Twin Star Rocket" slowly screeched to a halt.

Eight of the 10 passenger cars jumped the track but remained upright. A baggage car came to rest on its side.

Flames and the steel bars weighing thousands of pounds trapped the truck driver, Ray Dawson, 45, Dallas, in the wreckage of the vehicle. He died before being pulled free.

The train made up in Houston and had left Union Station only minutes before on a run to Minneapolis.

Most of the injured suffered only cuts and bruises. None were believed in critical condition.

2 More Arrested For Heifer Thefts

Two more men were arrested Friday and a third is being sought in connection with the Dec. 28 theft of two heifers from a Salineville area farm.

Meanwhile, a preliminary hearing scheduled Friday for Delva Cronin, 24, of Hammondsville, for grand larceny and receiving stolen property in connection with the theft, was postponed after other developments, according to Sheriff Russell VanFossan.

The two taken into custody yesterday are from Wellsville. The other man is from the county. If the third is apprehended, formal charges will be filed against the trio and they will receive hearings Monday before County Judge James L. MacDonald.

Cronin is being held at the County Jail in Lisbon in lieu of $2,500 bond on each of the two charges. He was arrested Tuesday night at the McLain Fire Brick Co. works at Wellsville after an Irondale man reported Cronin had sold him a 140-pound beef carcass Dec. 29.

Two prize heifers were stolen from the farm of Robert Beverly of Washington Township Dec. 28.

Fashionable Fellow

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—A self-described Florida orange picker arrested for disorderly conduct was asked by city police why he was wearing a tuxedo. He always wears it, he explained, even when picking oranges.

U.S.

was caused by cold air which was warmed as it crossed the lake and chilled when it reached the South Bend area. Normally, the Weather Bureau said, the chill would have developed at the shoreline but strong winds carried the air inland.

Snow and snow flurries continued during the night in the Great Lakes region eastward into northern New England and southward into the Appalachians as far as eastern Tennessee.

One to three inches of fresh snow fell during a six-hour period in most of the area from north-eastern Ohio across northern New York State and northern New England. Burlington, Vt., was blanketed by nearly two feet of snow.

Milder weather was reported along the eastern slopes of the Rockies and in the Western Plains, with temperatures 10 to 20 degrees higher than 24 hours earlier. They ranged as high as 30 degrees. Light snow spread from Montana southward into western Nebraska and northern Colorado.

Considerable cloudiness and fog blanketed much of the Pacific Northwest and eastward into Idaho. Temperatures were mostly in the 30s and 40s. Skies were clear in the far Southwest, with temperatures ranging to near 60 in Southern California.

Albany, the capitol of New York State, was first named Fort Nassau, then renamed Fort Orange. The British named it Albany in 1664. Albany was one of the titles of King James II.

Exercise Achieves The Impossible

In the every refreshing story of Alice in Wonderland, the White Queen explains to Alice that she often believes in six impossible things before breakfast.

All it takes is practice, she assures the skeptical Alice.

A reader from Ohio writes to report that she has accomplished the "impossible" with exercise. Like Alice, you may find this hard to believe. Well, it takes practice - in this case, the practice of exercise.

To continue the letter: "When I started your protective diet I weighed 176 pounds. I now weigh 153 pounds—23 pounds off. This is going to be hard for anyone but me to believe, but I just bought a size 14 sheath."

WHEN I WEIGHED 176, I wore a loose size 20. If anyone had told me that at 153 pounds I would be able to get into any size 14, let alone a sheath, I would have thought they were stretching the truth. Ten years ago, when I weighed 138, I was lucky if I could squeeze into a size 16.

"To add to the mystery, this size 14 is an absolutely straight sheath and is a cheaper dress. I had always understood that the cheaper dresses ran small. There aren't enough words to say how wonderful it is to be able to get into this size 14!

"What does it take to reduce? Will power and exercise. I exercised every single day. Now, even though the scales are not going down very fast (after the 23 pound loss), the inches are still going down."

"Tell your readers that exercise is so important. I never realized what exercise could do toward reshaping one's figure until I made it a part of my daily program. I have three children, the youngest is five. My stomach muscles were flabby, and I've firmed them and slimmed my waist and the entire middle measurement."

"The rewards of sticking with diet and exercise are simply tremendous. I could go on and on, but I'll stop and hope you will print this. If my experience can help even one overweight to shed the unwanted pounds and inches, it will be worth my writing this letter. I haven't worn a size 14 in 20 years!"

IMPOSSIBLE? Well just to make sure, I picked up the telephone and called this young woman long distance. It's all wonderfully true. She is 5 feet 6 tall and can wear a size 14 sheath. "Understand I'm not a perfect 14 yet, but I'm aiming to be," she added, laughing.

Tomorrow I'll outline the exercise program by which she achieved the impossible. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet, entitled "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Pennsylvanian Injured In Stratton Car Mishap

Ansel L. Martin, 54, of Hanlon Station, Pa., received a bruised right hip when his car rolled over on Route 7 a mile north of Stratton Friday at 5 p. m., according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol.

Officers said Martin lost control on the icy pavement and the car went off the left side of the road before rolling. It was damaged heavily.

Canton Driver Fined

LISBON — Herman Lennon of Canton was fined $100 and costs at a hearing Friday before County Judge James L. MacDonald on a charge of operating a motor vehicle after his driver's license had been suspended. He was cited Nov. 3 by the Highway State Patrol and had posted $100 bond. The hearing had been postponed twice.

Delany's Barefoot Training May Pay Off With Record
BOSTON (AP) — Ron Delany's barefoot training may produce a Knights of Columbus mile record tonight at Boston Garden.

The Dublin flier is opening his fifth indoor season with a 32-race unbeaten streak on boards at stake.

"I ran barefooted on the grass all summer at Dublin," Delany said. "And that helped me to win the mile in 3:57.5 there, too. When I returned to Villanova, I continued to train barefooted until mid-November. Had to quit then because the ground was hard and my feet were getting sore."

"The Australians run without shoes successfully. It has toughened my feet, made me stronger, given me added stamina. It added a little speed. I never felt better," Delany added.

With three subfour minute outdoor miles under his belt, the 23-year old Irishman thinks the time is near for clocking to fall to four minutes and below indoors.

"The four minute indoor mile is possible this winter," he said. "It might happen to me."

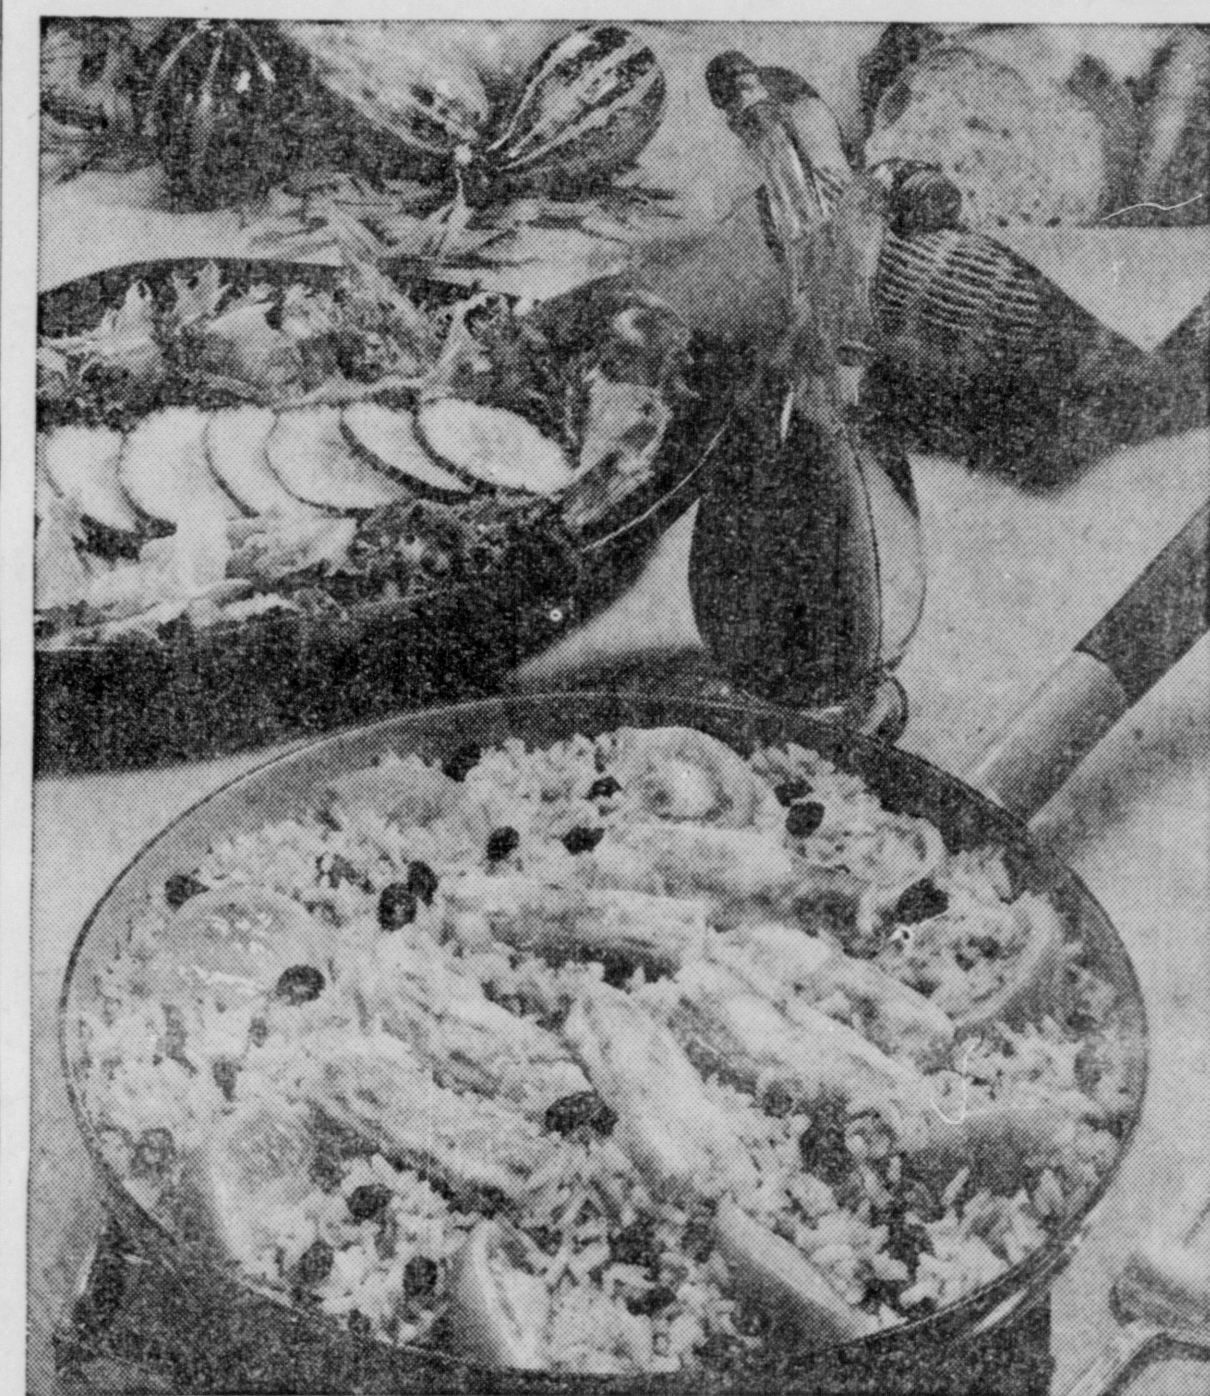

Ohio State Defeats Minnesota Swimmers
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Ohio State took 8 of 11 first place events to beat Minnesota 59-46 in a duel swimming meet here Friday night.

Sophomore Charles Stagman set a new Ohio State 200-yard butterfly record by going the course in 2:12.2, cutting nearly two seconds off the record of 2:14.

Sentenced In Burglary
CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge John H. Druffel in U. S. District Court sentenced Guy F. Humphrey, 33, of Portsmouth to two years in prison Friday on a charge of burglary involving a postoffice in the state of Wyoming. Court aides said Humphrey, who has twice escaped from prison, must serve a five-year term and a four-to-eight year sentence to other recent felony convictions before starting the term given Friday.

To Hit Drink To Minors
CLEVELAND (AP)—A squad of state liquor agents, described by their enforcement chief, Ivan W. Smoth of Canton as "the best possible men," has teamed up with Cleveland police for a crackdown on sale of liquor to minors.

King Crabmeat Offers Tasty One-Dish Meal

Attractive, delicious one-dish meals are so convenient and so popular these days that busy women are on the look-out for new recipe suggestions.

Not only are they work-time savers, but with the pretty skilllets and casseroles now available, you can bring them proudly from stove to table.

King Crabmeat Pilaf is a fine example — combining the big red and white chunks of king crabmeat with nutritious rice, tomatoes and raisins.

1 6½ ounce can king crabmeat
½ cup chopped onions
¼ cup olive oil
1 cup raw rice
1½ cups clear chicken broth (or 1½ cups clam juice)
chicken broth
1½ to 2 cups peeled and sliced tomatoes (2)
¼ cup raisins
Salt and pepper to taste

Grated parmesan cheese, or Soy Sauce, as desired.

Remove cartilage from crabmeat, keeping chunks whole. In large skillet fry onions in oil. Add rice and fry until brown, stirring. Add broth and cook covered over low heat until it has been absorbed and rice is tender. Add tomatoes, raisins, and crabmeat. Cook 10 minutes. Serve with grated cheese or soy sauce. Makes four servings.

Mantle Says He Thinks He Deserves More Pay

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mickey Mantle, the home run slugger of the New York Yankees, says he may not be the best fielder in the world but thinks he deserves a bigger pay check.

Mantle's appraisal of his field came in a good natured comment on a remark attributed to Hank Bauer, Mantle's plain-talking teammate.

Bauer was quoted as having said in a talk to 600 baseball fans at the annual St. Paul Oldtimers Hot Stove League Thursday night that Mickey is a great ball player but "if you had 25 Mantles on a team you wouldn't be sure to win the pennant."

He may not be too far wrong about that part, Mantle said with a chuckle at his home here when told of the remark. "I'm not exactly the best fielder in the world."

The Minneapolis Star Friday quoted Bauer as saying in his St. Paul speech:

"Mantle is inclined to sulk when he's not whole hog. And, when he's in a slump, he tends to let down on himself and the club."

"If you had 25 Mantles on a team you wouldn't be sure to win the pennant. I found that the only way to win is for everybody to give 100 per cent for the team."

"I wish I had Mickey Mantle's ability," Bauer said.

But at his home in Overland Park, Kan., Friday, Bauer denied he had said Mantle sulked.

That's hogwash," Bauer said.

Chester Airman's Body Remains On Glacier

Relatives of T.Sgt. Robert Lee Register of Chester killed in an Alaska plane crash last Sunday, were advised Friday the body has not been recovered although another try was made yesterday.

Sgt. Register, son of Mrs. Lucy Register, 207 Alley E., Chester, was among nine Air Force crewmen killed when the giant C124 Globemaster crashed on a glacier on the Kenai Peninsula.

A brother, Raymond Register, was advised last night by Travis (Calif.) Air Base a rescue crew managed to reach the scene again yesterday and spotted five of the seven bodies still in the wreckage. Two were recovered Monday.

Funeral services for the 29-year-old airman will await return of the body. Burial had been planned in Ft. Bragg, N. C., but the military cemetery is filled, the family said.

Rep. Martin's Doctors Say Condition Good

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass.) veteran political warhorse, says his doctors have given him cheering news.

"They said my condition is very satisfactory," he said Friday. "much better and practically I'm on the road to recovery. I won't have to go back to the doctor for another six months."

Martin suffered a blood clot in his right leg at the end of the last session of Congress.

NBA Finds Its Self Involved In Another Segregation Issue

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The National Basketball Assn. found itself involved in another segregation episode today following refusal of Elgin Baylor, Minneapolis' rookie scoring ace, to suit up for a game here with Cincinnati Friday night.

Baylor, apparently upset when he and two Negro teammates were refused permission to stay in a hotel at which the team had reservations, didn't appear in uniform although he was on the bench during the pre-game warm-up. Cincinnati won the game 95-91.

Neither the former Seattle All-American nor Coach John Kundla would comment on the reason why the Lakers' top scorer was on the sidelines.

To questions, Kundla replied: "Ask him."

Baylor responded with "Ask the coach."

But Kundla did say before the game that Baylor was not bothered by a sore throat, which caused him to miss two games earlier in the week.

Elsewhere in the NBA Friday night the St. Louis Hawks snapped a five-game Syracuse winning streak 102-89 and stretched their own victory string to five. And the Philadelphia Warriors brought Boston's triumphant march through the Eastern Division up short with a 105-98 score.

Bob Pettit paced the Hawks with 30 points. Dolph Schayes scored 19 for the Nets.

The Warriors rallied in the second half behind the fine shooting of Woody Sauldsberry, who tallied 31 points. Bob Cousy was tops for the Celtics with 27.

Democrats To Pick '60 Convention Site Today

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A Democratic committee met here today to pick a site for the 1960 national convention.

The committee's choice will be presented to the full national committee Feb. 22 for a final decision.

Six cities are bidding for the convention. They are San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia, New York and Miami Beach.

Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler, here for the meeting, predicted the party will have a strong platform on civil rights next year.

He said the issue depends a lot on what the current Congress does.

"The American people must solve the integration-segregation problem. They must protect the rights of fellow Americans—white or black," Butler said.

Don't forget simple stewed fruits for dessert; a crisp cookie served along with them adds pleasing contrast in texture.

Left 2 Million Estate

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—C. Justus Wilcox, manager of the Libbey estate, left an estate of his own valued in excess of two million dollars, an estimate filed in Probate Court Friday showed. Wilcox, who was 79 when he died last month, left the entire estate to his wife, Ruth.

As recently as 25 years ago, many astronomers thought the outer galaxies were small objects in the Milky Way. New telescopes showed these galaxies are of enormous size in space at incredible distances.

Here's "millionaire" protection for less than 1 cent a day

What would happen if . . . through fire or theft . . . you lost your life insurance policy, your lease or deed to your home, your family records, Income Tax statements, stocks and bonds, personal jewelry, or any of a hundred other papers and intimate possessions? Temporary annoyance, at least: possibly an irreparable loss.

No matter how careful you may be, or how efficient our fire and police departments . . . families everywhere are constantly experiencing just such losses.

Fortunately this never need happen to you. For here at the First National Bank you can rent a safe deposit box large enough for family valuables, for less than 1c a day.

And yet no millionaire can buy greater protection. For in our modern vault you can personally lock up your valuables in your own private steel box . . . to which you alone are permitted to open.

Your private box becomes, in effect, a miniature vault within a vault, guarded night and day by a 10 ton door that is equipped with the most advanced scientific safety devices. Every precaution has been taken, every safeguard provided to assure complete protection, as far as it is humanly possible. When the cost is low, the protection so complete isn't it foolish and unnecessary to take chances?

Fun With Figures In Columbus

For all we know, Frank Lausche's bookkeeping system, which Gov. DiSalle says would knock former Gov. O'Neill's financial estimates for a loop, was the last word in accounting.

But it could just as easily be true that the O'Neill bookkeeping system, which replaced the Lausche system, was the last word.

It still remains to be seen what system Gov. DiSalle intends to use when he and his new administration's finance director, James Maloon, get down to official procedures.

Though we assume the state auditor's office always uses the same system, because otherwise its comparative statistics wouldn't mean anything, we cannot be too sure of that, the way things are.

And what way are things?

THERE IS a game they play in Columbus called Fun With Figures. They play the same game in Washington, 80 times faster and funnier. The object of the game is to make taxpayers feel ashamed for not supporting government in the style to which public spenders would like to be accustomed.

The gamemanship — the technique — is to make the figures about public finance conceal about as much as they reveal, so taxpayers never can be sure who's on first, the legislators can be sure only part of the time and 'spenders can go about their business undisturbed.

Standard practice is to underestimate income and to overestimate expenditures, in the hope of knocking enough off the latter and picking up enough on the former to make a cushion. This works pretty well, because department heads always ask for more than they expect to get so if they get less they still will have enough to run things in good style, with perhaps a little something to stash away for a rainy day.

We do not say this is right or wrong. We say this is the way it's done.

AS FOR THE hassle between Gov. DiSalle and former Gov. O'Neill over the former's claim that Ohio is practically broke and the latter's claim that enough money is in sight to pay all the bills and still have six and a half million dollars left over next June 30, we think it's an open-ended argument over bookkeeping systems. We don't know how it can be settled.

If we did, we'd go to Washington and start making sense out of the federal government's funny figures, which are just as perplexing as Ohio's, only 80 times more so—88 billion there to only one billion here.

One thing we know for certain. If the DiSalle administration is going to spend more money than the O'Neill administration, it will have to find more income, because by either system of bookkeeping — DiSalle's or O'Neill's — the bottom of Ohio's money barrel is in sight. The only difference is that the DiSalle system says it's already in plain sight; the O'Neill system says it's six and a half million dollars away as of next June 30.

The days of big surpluses built up by the Ohio sales tax and stashed away for deferred improvements on state institutions are gone forever.

Things Never Looked Any Bigger

Statisticians cannot be blamed for their statistics any more than messengers can be blamed for their messages.

But they are fooling with a highly inexact science until statistics can be presented in proportionate terms.

This matter comes to mind at this time of the year when politicians are telling the American people how well off they are, or how poorly off they are, depending on what the politicians are trying to prove.

Here's the joker in their presentations: They always make their comparisons with some period in the past, but they never point out that comparisons with the past are of little or no value, because conditions are not identical.

Moreover, if the statisticians were to try to bring conditions in the present and in the past into correct proportion it would be such a laborious and iffy process no one would be patient enough to bear with them.

On top of that, some of the conclusions they would develop would be so far from the preconceptions of the public that the statisticians would be run out of town for gross misrepresentation.

STATISTICIANS to the contrary notwithstanding, things are not everlastingly getting better or worse. Some things that seem to be getting better actually are getting worse. Some things supposedly getting worse actually are getting better. And most things are staying about the same, despite funny figures and suppositions.

This is something to bear in mind for mental protection against the welter of statistics that soon will be laid down on the public like an artillery barrage to soften it up for a series of assaults on its common sense. It is every man for himself.

The idea, in general, is to make it appear that things never were bigger. The deception in this is easy because, in truth, things never were bigger. Figures on pay checks are bigger. Debts are bigger. More people are being born, and more people are being killed.

Whipsawing Works Both Ways

Air Transport Association of America has issued a long statement of complaint about the way airlines are being "whipsawed" by unions.

In only one month last year — August — were the airlines free from strikes. The unions they must deal with were apparently in a cooperative scheme to make them bleed.

Meanwhile, the bulk of their employees were bleeding, too, because of furloughs necessitated by closedowns. But the union members, especially the organized pilots, did very little bleeding. Their strike benefits were of respectable size.

The association leaves no doubt in its statement of complaint that it thinks it was gigged methodically in 1958 and that there may be worse to come. It has detected a pattern of "whipsawing" that bodes no good for its future. Moreover, it has noted that James R. Hoffa was helping out on the "whipsaw."

Come To The Fair

The Tri-State Science Fair March 12-14 at Westgate School is another of those events which help answer the frequent cry of: "What is there to do?"

It is an excellent opportunity for those with an inclination for scientific endeavor to demonstrate their ability. The fair is to such youngsters as a state basketball tournament, a World Series or a Rose Bowl game is to those with a love for sports.

The glamor is less to be sure, but the eventual rewards could be far greater.

With science constantly playing a more vital role in our everyday life, programs such as the coming science fair can serve as a stepping stone to greater things.

If you're interested in science and want to demonstrate your ability, here is your chance. Applications for exhibits must be submitted by Feb. 10. They should be addressed to Tri-State Science Fair, Box 98, East Liverpool, Ohio.

All Is Forgiven

Failure of the Columbiana County commissioners to appropriate funds for fox bounties at their reorganization meeting earlier this month is something that could happen in the best of courthouse families after many years away from home.

The commissioners admit the mistake, pointing to inexperience in office. And economy-wise, it could save the county something in the neighborhood of $2,000 unless some method is found to rectify the error.

The hunters must be disconsolate, but so far as we are concerned all is forgiven. And we're certain the foxes have no complaints.

The whole earth weighs about six billion trillion tons, including the air and atmosphere about it, every mountain, house, tree, and person—this weight having been figured out by American Bureau of Standards scientists.

The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie

Robert E. Lee, often called the soldiers' soldier, was a living model of Christ's edict to "love your enemies."

Lee, whose birthday falls this week, was born Jan. 19, 1807. A master strategist and brilliant leader, he hated only one thing in his life: war.

"What a cruel thing war is," he once observed sorrowfully after a great victory, "—to fill our hearts with hatred instead of love for our neighbors, and to devastate the fair face of this beautiful world."

A man of prayer and sturdy faith, Lee on another occasion wrote: "I remember . . . in the Good Book that we must love our enemies. I have fought against Union soldiers, but I have never cherished any vindictive feelings. I have never seen the day when I did not pray for them."

UAW Gears For Political Action

By Victor Riesel

Walter Reuther and the rest of the Auto Workers' high command are gearing their union so they can shift easily into independent political action —that is, political action independent of even the Democratic party, the merged labor movement, or any other force, for that matter.

Operating on the theory that the eternal vigilance is the price of political victory, the Auto Union chiefs will operate during all four seasons through a network of new Citizenship Councils. These will be organized in every state where Reuther has followers.

They'll be patterned after three such councils which have been in action for some time in Chicago, Buffalo and Philadelphia.

Directed out of the national Solidarity House headquarters in Detroit, the councils will have a national staff of some 48 political and educational directors.

THEY'LL BE FINANCED out of the 10 cents a member paid into a Citizenship Fund each month. With the latest official membership figures at 1,026,000, this gives Reuther's political education drive about $1,230,000 a year. Half goes to the local unions and half to the national office.

This will be just enough to put the new political sputnik into orbit. The Citizenship Councils, judging from the current operations in the three big cities, won't need heavy funds.

Each council will band together the local UAW unions in its city or region. In turn, it will have delegates on a statewide Citizenship Council. The council will meet either in some United Automobile Workers Union headquarters or in a local hotel room.

That's the practice of one of the operational three, the Western New York Citizenship Council, with headquarters and a president in Buffalo. It meets regularly. It fights for local and state laws in Albany. It endorses candidates.

The council does not have to give, nor has it always given, its backing to nominees supported by other labor unions or even the Democratic party.

THAT'S THE POINT. The New York group makes its own political decisions. That will be the point of the entire Citizenship Council system which was approved at a UAW Executive Board session in Detroit last November.

This was the point at the national UAW staff meeting in Washington—held during the height and heat of the liberal-labor Northern Democratic drive to crack the filibuster rule.

Reuther, his colleagues and staff men were all over the Hill. But they found that many of the 15 new senators they supported abandoned them and confederated with the Southern bloc.

Reuther and his people know that the way to a congressman's heart is through his home district. The proof of politics in the voting on the precinct level. That's where the Citizenship Councils will be operating every day—not just around election time.

Reuther and his Auto Union high command have also taken a good look at the leadership of the newly merged state and regional AFL-CIO councils.

THIS PROCESS is complete everywhere except in New Jersey. Virtually everywhere the top spots are held by former AFL state and city central council chiefs.

Their politics are not likely to stir comradeship feelings in Reuther. A good many of the former AFL leaders are Republicans or tied in closely with the conservative old-line Democratic political machines. There's about as much chance of Reuther and these conservative labor chiefs seeing eye to political eye as there is for Mikoyan to ask for the Senate floor for a speech memorializing the late Sen. McCarthy.

Characteristic of the clash of political temperament is the AFL fight with the CIO leaders in Jersey, most of whom are from the Auto Union or close to it. The AFL leaders want to keep the dues low from each member union so there'll be less for the CIO type of political action.

But with the Auto Union's system of political action Citizenship Councils, Reuther and his people will have an independent machine of their own right across the land.

A Horse? Where?

By Truman Twill

—And when earth's last auto is worn out and its tires are all twisted and dry. . . . When the acrylic finish has faded, And the youngest mechanic has died, We shall rest, and, faith, we shall need it—stay put for an aeon or two, Till the maker of internal combustion Shall put it to work anew.

With no apology to Kipling, who wouldn't have minded, there are a few things we'd like to get off our chest about the automobile—everybody's automobile.

It is a servant that became a master. We are its slaves. It puts us in bondage from the time before we are born when it either gets us to the hospital so the job can be done right, or we win notoriety for an unorthodox entrance.

It holds us in bondage until our last unwitting journey to the end of the trail under a waving plume of exhaust fumes from its twin tail pipes.

With the sweat of our bodies we build table-top roads for it to spin on while we toil. We mortgage our souls to possess a piece of discounted paper attesting we have sneezed up enough moola to take the depreciation on what is by that time a piece of worthless junk that will make a sensitive salesman wrinkle his nose as if he had just caught a whiff of the Ethiopian army on midsummer maneuvers.

We bend our backs until we can hear them creak and splinter to push the thing when it falls into a connotation of balkiness.

We do the dance of death before it as it bears down on us when we are dismounted, perchance walking to the usurers to make the monthly payment.

It tempts us to make spatial commitments that no sane being ever thought of making before the onslaught of high-octane madness, such as driving into the next county for lunch and a neighboring state to steal a farmer's wildflowers.

Only three Presidents of the United States were born in states west of the Mississippi River — Hoover, Truman, and Eisenhower.

It wheedles us to go out into the snow when our souls are more bent to stay cozily by the fire and do something useful, like crocheting a wash rag for the men overseas. And then it gets itself stuck while we curse and freeze.

It extorts a Balkan king's ransom out of us for "protection," an arrangement reminiscent of a technique once made famous by Scarface Al Capone of Chicago—first hoodlum to clean up big on motor-driven racketeering.

It contaminates our lungs with the pictures off our walls and the loose change out of our jeans.

It tempts us to keep up with the Joneses as they plunge forward beyond the legal speed limit to the brink of oblivion.

It hastens hardening of the arteries and a variety of vascular disorders by tempting us to go through life on our fannies instead of on our feet, according to the authorized blueprints of the big designer up in the sky. It also serves as our eager exterminator if we shut ourselves up alone with it.

It monopolizes our conversation. It fillets the space of our cities to overflowing, distorts the national economic picture, guarantees a boom-and-bust cycle in our economy and is habit-forming.

We cannot live without it, because we have let it destroy all compelling forms of transportation. And we cannot live with it, because we are not smart enough to earn enough money to keep abreast of its needs.

Early skeptics, who saw this thing coming, used to sneer, "Get a horse!" Where, friend?

Odd And Interesting

Wise words from Dato Raja Haji Oman, present cabinet member of the government of Malaya in the East Indies: "If everyone believes in religion, the world will have a lasting peace because religion itself is peace."

Only three Presidents of the United States were born in states west of the Mississippi River — Hoover, Truman, and Eisenhower.

Soviet Hypocrisy

By David Lawrence

Mikoyan Visit Shows Red Paradox

If anything were needed to expose the humbug and hypocrisy of the Moscow government, it has been fully demonstrated in the paradox of Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan's tour of this country. While he openly criticizes the government of the United States and its policies, no American, whether an official or an unofficial visitor, may do likewise inside the so-called "republics" of the Soviet Union.

Already "Tass," the official news agency of the Soviet government, is telling its readers and listeners that the people of the United States do not agree with the American government's policies and that Mikoyan is certainly winning converts to his cause.

Imagine some American official going to Russia and touring that country, making outspoken criticisms of the men in the Kremlin and trying to drive a wedge between the people and their government!

This can be only a wild fancy for nothing like it would be tolerated by the dictatorship which rules the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Union has some distinguished American visitors, including Sen. Hubert Humphrey, one of the leaders of the opposition party in Congress and a high-ranking member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

THOUGH HE SPENT eight hours in conference with Premier Khrushchev at the Kremlin, what the senator said or later wrote in defense of American policies or in criticism of Soviet policies was suppressed, by order of the government, in all the newspapers of the Soviet Union.

How can there be mutual trust or the beginnings of a "peaceful co-existence" when the rules that apply inside the Soviet Union are so hostile to the concept of free interchange between peoples?

President Eisenhower told news-men this week that he is in favor of more and more visits by prominent persons from the Soviet Union. But of what avail are these to be if access to the Soviet people is denied by the dictatorship in Moscow?

The Columbia Broadcasting System has, for example, been ordered to close its Moscow bureau, and accreditation has been withdrawn for its correspondent by the Soviet government. This was done to express Soviet disapproval of the tele-visioning over the CBS network in this country of a show about Stalin of the type found in historical novels.

SIMILARLY, a National Broadcasting Company representative in Moscow was denied use of broadcast facilities because of some phrasing in one of his broadcasts which the Soviet government didn't like.

The Soviets, moreover, spend millions of dollars each year jamming American radio broadcasts to Russia and countries in Eastern Europe.

Even more hypocritical is the Soviet government's attitude toward foreign newspapers and periodicals.

It examines the policies of the publications and denies the admission of permanent correspondents representing any publication whose content the Soviets dislike. Yet the Congress of the United States admits to its press galleries persons from the Soviet Union in the guise of newsmen who are agents or employees of their own government in every sense of the word.

There is, in fact, no such thing today as reciprocity as between the Soviet government and our own government. It is the United States that gives constantly, while the Moscow government repeatedly says "no." Yet Mr. Mikoyan tells American audiences it is time for America to stop saying "no" to the various proposals relating to the future of Germany and other world problems which have been under incessant discussion between Moscow and Washington these last few years.

THE RECEPTION given Mr. Mikoyan is being described in the Moscow press and radio as an indication that the American people do not agree with their own government.

Such distortions are to be expected in a government-controlled press. When, however, it may be asked of Mr. Mikoyan, will the Soviet Union permit any American to stump Russia and tell them their dictatorship is bad and can be overthrown by force whenever the people, by concerted action, decide to do so?

If Mr. Mikoyan says it can't be done here either, he may be referred, incongruous though it be, to the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the so-called "Yates Case."

This says it is constitutional for anybody — even a member of the Communist party of the Soviet Union — to come to America and preach the gospel of revolution.

When will the supreme tribunal of the Soviets grant Americans a reciprocal right?

More 'Goalism'

Raymond Moley

The latest recruit to what egg-heads call "goalism" is President Eisenhower.

A sizable part of his message is the suggestion that there be appointed, perhaps by the President, a group of "educators, and representatives of labor, management, finance, the professions, agriculture and every other kind of useful activity."

This collection of what he calls "selfless" individuals would survey us and plan what we should all do to attain certain "goals" in five or perhaps 10 years.

He mentions that there was that sort of body in 1931, which submitted what was called "Social Trends" in two fat volumes. I remember that document well. Some one gave me a copy when the plans of Governor Roosevelt were being made.

It consisted of hundreds of pages of exceedingly dull prose, graphs, and tables. It was ignored by those who were planning things.

So far as I know, it had no influence and dropped into the dusty obscurity of library shelves. For all that it said was more attractively presented in hundred of other places.

SOMEONE SEEMS to have recently called it to the attention of the President—perhaps somebody but scholarly reproduction of what is generally known.

"Goalism" is a very popular pastime these days. Nelson Rockefeller, with the itch to get into politics, had his "Brothers Fund" spend a large chunk of family money on a lot of reports which, emblazoned in the New York press, made a fine means of setting the stage for his political coming-out party.

These reports are now worth about the same per hundredweight as abandoned campaign literature or old newspapers.

But don't we have plenty of government prophecy departments already scanning things and getting their gist over to the Government Printing Office?

To list a few, we have the President's own Council of Economic Advisers, and the Joint Economic Committee; the Department of Agriculture has a big prophecy bureau whose interest goes all over the national map and there is the same sort of thing in the Commerce Department.

Then there is the Federal Reserve Board a-planning and a-plotting and a-goaling.

The federal government has many other agencies doing it, such as the Census Bureau.

Garfield, Horace Mann Units Urged To Join National PTA

Donald Wellington of Wellsville, a representative of the National Parent - Teacher Association, was guest speaker at the joint meeting of the Garfield and Horace Mann units Thursday night at the East Junior High School.

He spoke on affiliation with the national organization and a question - and - answer period followed.

Wellington and John Pommert, minister of the Second Church of Christ, who gave the invocation, were introduced by Miss Anna Johnston, principal of both schools.

The program included a clarinet quartet from the Horace Mann School, which gave five numbers, and a group of sixth grade pupils under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Ruth Kincaid, who sang two numbers.

Following the program, the two units held separate business sessions.

W. Charles Heasley, president of the Garfield group, conducted its business in the study hall and reports were heard from Mrs. Orville Woomer, secretary, and Herman Steffin, City PTA Federation representative.

The attendance award was won by the third grade with Mrs. Betty Patterson teacher.

The Horace Mann unit met with Paul Cunningham, president, in the visual education room. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and approved.

A letter was read from Mayor Fred Lawrence, regarding the continued employment of the school guard until further notice. A note of thanks was extended for the protection of the children.

Another letter of thanks was read from Judge Louis Tobin of the Child Counseling Center for the unit's donation.

A discussion was held on the Civil Defense safety program in the school.

Mrs. Richard Galloway gave a report on the City Federation meeting held last Monday.

The "Blue Boy" attendance award was won by the first grade.

The unit was asked by a Boy Scout representative if it would renew its sponsorship of a Cub Scout Troop.

Committees for the spring carnival will be named before the February meeting, Cunningham said.

Grocery To Be Opened In Former Market

SALINEVILLE — Mrs. Cleda Peloso, manager of the A. & P. market which suspended business here last weekend, today announced she will open an independent IGA grocery store next week in the City Hall storeroom vacated by the chain.

The A. & P. store terminated business Saturday, and removed some equipment Wednesday. Officials said the store was closed because of the distance from supply routes and labor costs.

Mrs. Peloso said she had purchased some equipment in the store, and plans to go into the grocery business herself.

Paul And The Incident At Ephesus

One of the most forceful stories in the Bible has to do with an incident that occurred in the city of Ephesus during the Apostle Paul's two-year stay there.

The Ephesians, for the most part, were worshipers of the goddess Diana. Paul was preaching the doctrine of the one living God, and he was having considerable success; many were converted from their pagan beliefs.

In Ephesus at the time was a man named "Demetrius," a silversmith who had built up a thriving business manufacturing and selling idols and shrines for the worship of Diana.

He employed a large number of the town's craftsmen to help him turn out his products. It was a profitable undertaking for all concerned.

But because of Paul's preaching, business dropped off. People gave up their worship of Diana and, consequently, quit buying the silver statues and trinkets that came from Demetrius' shop.

THIS WASN'T good, Demetrius thought. This man, Paul, was turning away his customers.

"There are no gods made by hand," Paul was saying, and the Ephesians were believing him.

Demetrius called a mass meeting of his workers at the local theater. He told them that Paul was destroying Diana's magnificence, that soon the temple of their goddess would be despised, that their craft and livelihood were in danger.

The meeting became a near-riot. The crowd's demonstration against Paul lasted for two hours.

"Great is Diana of the Ephesians!" they shouted, over and over again.

Finally the town clerk took the platform and quieted the demonstration.

"Everyone knows that the city of Ephesus is a worshiper of Diana," he said. "This cannot be denied."

"Why, then, this demonstration? This man has broken no law; it is only that he differs with you!"

The crowd dispersed and went home. The town clerk had presented a valid argument and had won his point.

THE PRINCIPLE involved here hasn't changed in the last 1,900 years. If we really believe what we say we believe, if it is an ethical belief, if our position is clear and we stick by it, we have nothing to fear from those who disagree with us.

On the other hand, if we do not really believe what we say we believe, not only will false beliefs overrule us, but the truth eventually will destroy us.

Church Library To Be Dedicated

The dedication of the library of the First Church of Christ will be held Sunday morning during the assembly period.

In connection with the opening of the library, the congregation will also observe Literature Week.

At the 10:30 a. m. service, John N. Mostoller, minister, will give a sermon entitled "The Temptations That Challenged Him." The Adult Choir will sing "Thy Will Be Done."

At the 7:30 p. m. service, the minister will speak on "The Four Winds and the Voice of God." The CYF will meet at 5:30 p. m. The Board of Elders will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

The Chi Rho Fellowship will meet Thursday at 6:30 p. m. and the Adult Choir will rehearse at 7:30.

Ministers To Discuss Explorer Scout Plans

LISBON — Ministers of all Protestant churches in the Shawnee District of the Columbiana Boy Scout Council will meet Wednesday to review the new Explorer Scout program. A dinner will be held at Heck's Restaurant at Columbiana at 6:30 p. m.

The pastors will discuss how the new program will fit into the church youth programs. Exploring, for boys 14 to 18, started a new program Jan. 1 based on a scientific study of the interests of both boys and girls of this age.

The Rev. Herbert Massey of the East Palestine Methodist Church is chairman of the Protestant committee for Scouting for Columbiana County, which is at an all-time high in membership.

The committee urges all Protestant ministers to attend and review the program.

Pastor To Resign At Second U.P. For New Pulpit

Robert W. Helstrom, student pastor at the Second United Presbyterian Church, expects to announce his resignation at Sunday's service.

In the local pulpit for the past two and a half years, he will conduct his final service Jan. 25. A student at the Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary, he succeeded the Rev. David Gordon, who left for mission work in Utah after serving for 10 months.

He will become pastor of the Irons Memorial United Presbyterian Church at McDonald, Pa., in March, following his ordination, but will conduct his first service there Feb. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Helstrom and their children, Karen, Kristi, Martha and David, will leave for McDonald Jan. 27.

A congregational meeting will be held Wednesday night at 7:30 when action is expected on procuring a replacement.

The pastor will preach on "Life's Main Business" at the 11 a. m. service Sunday.

The choir will sing "Led by His Light" (Challinor).

Sunday School will convene at 9:45.

The Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:30 p. m. with Karen Helstrom as leader on the topic "Almost Adults."

The choir will rehearse Tuesday at 6:30 p. m.

Members will occupy reserved seats in the church. They will assemble at 10:15.

Other Masses will be heard at 6 a. m., 7:30, 9:15 and 12 noon and the second Sunday after Epiphany will be observed. Fr. Robert G. Moorhead is pastor.

Confessions will be heard today from 3:30 to 5 and 7:30 to 9 p. m.

Tourists Downright Puzzled At Tomb Of Pope John 23rd

By EUGENE LEVIN

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — The tourists were downright puzzled. They had just come from Rome, where a vigorous Pope John XXIII rules the Vatican. Now they were in Florence looking at the tomb of Pope John XXIII.

The guide saw the bewilderment on their faces.

"I'm sorry," he said. "I must explain. This is the tomb of a Pope John XXIII who died in the 15th century. He really wasn't a legitimate pope. He was an antipope, a false claimant to the papacy."

"For years I have told tourists that this is the tomb of Pope John XXIII. I never had to distinguish between him and the present pope. Now I must and I keep forgetting."

Donatello and Michelozzo, two of the greatest Italian Renaissance sculptors, have given the antipope a magnificent tomb just outside the historic cathedral of Florence.

How did a man considered a false pope get such a fine tomb?

The antipope, born about 1370, was Baldassarre Cossa, son of a noble family of Naples. He was 8 when the "Great Schism" split the Roman Catholic Church. One pope, Clement VII, set up shop in Avignon, France; another, Urban VI, in Rome.

The schism continued through the reigns of Popes Boniface IX, Innocent VII and Gregory XII in Rome, while the antipope Benedict XIII succeeded Clement in Avignon.

Cossa, a youth of talent and energy, entered the service of the popes of Rome and became a cardinal at the age of 32. Seven years later he played an important part in the Council of Pisa, which sought to resolve the schism. Instead, it merely created another schismatic faction.

The council ruled that both Gregory XII at Rome and Benedict XIII in Avignon should be deposed. Then Cossa brought about the election of Alexander V, now considered an antipope. A year later, in 1410, Alexander died and Cossa was elected Pope John XXIII by the cardinals supporting him.

The schism had political overtones and Cossa had the soli-support of the rich city of Florence, which was then building itself into a rival of Rome and of France.

But Gregory in Rome and Benedict in Avignon both refused to give way to Alexander or his successor, John, and until 1415 there were three rival claimants to the papacy.

In that year, the Council of Constance brought about John's abdication. Benedict was declared deposed. Gregory resigned to help resolve the schism.

Two years later, Martin V was elected pope and the schism ended. Cossa paid homage to Martin, who returned the erstwhile Pope John XXIII to the cardinalate.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses

Monday	Philippians	4	6-7
Tuesday	I Corinthians	15	57-58

Friday	Psalm	84	1-12
Saturday	II Peter	1	1-8

"For Thy love we thank Thee, Lord . . . For Thy help we pray."

Just a few words, rooted in gratitude. But gratitude means so much . . . to the Giver . . . and to those who receive!

To God it means that we are not too busy enjoying His gifts to understand His love.

To us it means that we have not forgotten the heart of life. We haven't lost sight of the spiritual center toward which the Church constantly points our vision. And to our children it means a family life based on faith and prayer.

Of course, our "blessing" or "grace" is only a small part of the Christian Life to which the Church calls us. But, like every piece in a puzzle, it belongs there!

And the sooner we put all the pieces in place, the sooner we'll understand the WHOLE PICTURE.

The Rev. James E. Hunton, pastor, will begin a series of sermons Sunday at the 10:45 a. m. service on "The Seven Churches." His morning topic will be "The Cold Church" and in the evening he will speak on "The Church of Compromise."

Music will be presented by the Church Choir, Immanuel, Singing Strings and there will be a vocal solo by Mrs. Margorie Stover.

Sunday School will begin at 9:30 with Mrs. Hunton's class in charge of the opening exercise.

All youth groups will meet at 6:30 p. m. and the class meeting will be held at the same time.

Choir rehearsal will be conducted Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. instead of Tuesday night.

Men's Prayer meeting will be held Saturday at 7:30.

Death Cancels Screening Of Graham Film

Screening of Evangelist Billy Graham's latest movie, scheduled Monday night by the Christian Business Men's Committee, has been canceled because of the traffic death of a representative of the film distributors.

The committee was advised Friday that Eddie Kocher, field representative, was killed in the crash Jan. 4. He was representative of World Wide Pictures of Sherman Oaks, Calif., serving out of the Lebanon (Pa.) office. The company is the distributing agency for Billy Graham Evangelistic Films, Inc.

David M. Barr of the Lebanon office advised the CBM it expects to assign a new representative in the near future when the screening of "The Heart Is a Rebel" can be rescheduled.

It was to have been shown in the Westgate School auditorium.

OSU Art Professor To Take Iowa State Job

DES MOINES (AP) — Frank Seiberling, professor of art history at Ohio State University, has been appointed professor and head of the Art Department at the State University of Iowa.

The appointment was approved here Friday by the State Board of Regents. Seiberling, member of the Ohio State faculty since 1946, will take over his new post at Iowa City next Sept. 18.

Before going to Ohio State Seiberling had been head of the education department at the Museum of Art at Toledo, Ohio.

Confident Living

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

What To Do About Your Troubles

I was riding on a New York subway train recently and couldn't help observing the two people seated directly across from me. They were a man and a woman, in their mid-forties, apparently a husband and wife, and they had a troubled look about them. I guess I stared, but they did not notice.

Dr. Peale

They sat there looking straight ahead beyond me into the tunnel walls and stations as they flashed by. As I watched, they moved ever closer together. She was a little woman and he a rather large man whose bulk overshadowed her. I saw her open her handbag, take out a handkerchief, put it over the end of a finger and dab away tears from her eyes.

HER HUSBAND saw it, too. He took out his handkerchief and blew his nose vociferously. Then he put it back in his pocket and reached out and took her hand. She pressed his and turned to give him a sweet but sad smile.

Just then the train came to my station and I had to get off. I looked back through the windows at the couple and watched them disappear as the train vanished into the dark tunnel. I shall never know them, nor shall I ever know what it was that troubled them. But I shall remember this vignette of human sorrow and feel that their sorrow, whatever it was, touched my life too.

"The whole world is full of trouble," is one of the oldest clichés. And, of course, it is true. But when I once repeated it to a wise old philosopher, he answered me, "Yes, the whole world is full of trouble, but it is also full of the overcoming of trouble."

And that is the glory and the genius of religious faith. For faith has an effervescence, an indomitable and undefeated quality about it, an optimism that never can be quenched. It tells its followers in every generation of time that, while there is always tribulation in the world, they can be of good cheer, because through God they can overcome the world.

ONE OF THE greatest statements ever made is found in the most dynamic book ever written, the Holy Bible.

It is this: "...the kingdom of God is within you." Do you know what those significant words mean? Simply that God's goodness is in each of us. They mean that God's own strength is in us. They also mean that God's pattern of thinking may be our own. In other words, all of God's riches are potentially within us awaiting our appropriation of them.

And these are tremendous resources, too. They are much more than enough to overcome any and all of your difficulties. So draw upon them; learn to use them. But how is that done? you may well ask.

The first step is to realize that you have this great power—potential within you and to really believe that with it you can effectively handle any difficulty. If you think you are lacking in potential you will be lacking in power. But when you know the power that is within you, then you will be conscious of adequate strength.

Second, once you realize you have this strength you must be humble about it. This is nothing you acquire on your own; God alone gives it to you. And always it must be used as God wants it used.

Third, and most important perhaps, give of the power within you to help others. In helping others, we learn how best to help ourselves. Strangely enough in the very act of giving to others you renew power within yourself. The more strength you give to others the more you will have for yourself. In this process you will develop increasing power over your difficulties.

Ike-Mikoyan

a divided Germany and disarmament.

Mikoyan arrived at the White House about two minutes before his 9 a. m. EST appointment time. He was met by Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpastor, White House staff secretary. Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov and translator Oleg Troyanovsky accompanied Mikoyan.

Goodpastor was waiting outside, in subfreezing but sunny weather, to receive Mikoyan at the White House door. They shook hands and Mikoyan murmured a barely audible "good morning" in English. As Mikoyan walked through the White House lobby he had no comment other than a good morning for dozens of newsmen gathered there for the meeting.

Before the meeting with Mikoyan the President got a half hour briefing from Secretary of State Dulles.

Dulles arrived at the White House as scores of uniformed policemen were deployed in the streets around the White House as a security precaution.

A dozen or so pickets paraded a block away from the White House as the conference went on inside the executive mansion. Mikoyan probably did not even see the placard-carrying pickets.

The pickets said they were just plain American citizens who had gotten in touch with each other and decided to make a protest.

"We censure our patriots; we dine our enemies," one sign read, apparently in reference to many dinners given for Mikoyan.

"No red carpets for Reds," read another placard.

A squad of motorcycle policemen accompanied Mikoyan and his party on their short drive from the Soviet Embassy to the White House.

For Mikoyan the meeting was the climax of the spectacular tour which has taken him around the United States making public and private speeches, selling the Soviet "peace" line and pleading for trade and better relations, during the past two weeks.

If he brought any surprise proposal from Premier Nikita Khrushchev such as an outright bid for a summit meeting or concessions on German issues, U. S. officials agreed this was the time to submit it.

Mikoyan was ushered directly into Eisenhower's oval office. The President, Dulles, U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson and Asst. Secretary of State Livingston Merchant were waiting for him.

After news photographers had made a group picture, Eisenhower remarked to Mikoyan: "Now we have to wait for the other team"—newsreel cameramen.

Dulles turned to Mikoyan and said: "We've got some Moscow weather for you today." Through the windows could be seen the snow-covered White House lawn.

The Soviet deputy premier is the highest ranking Russian to visit the White House since former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov conferred with President Truman in 1945.

Mikoyan spent most of Friday, except for a luncheon with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in conference with Dulles and other top State Department officials. They covered among other subjects the Soviet Union's effort to oust the Western powers from Berlin and create a "free city" of West Berlin; U. S. policy on German reunification and Soviet proposals for a German peace treaty; and disarmament issues.

One of the main things Eisenhower wanted to find out from Mikoyan was whether the Soviet government is seriously interested in trying to reach agreements with the West on such major world issues as the division of Germany and measures to bring the nuclear arms race under control.

Only three days ago Eisenhower told reporters at the National Press Club the most that would be expected from Mikoyan's informal visit "would be that we would try to get behind each other's facial expressions...to see what we're really thinking."

If Dulles and his aides succeeded in getting behind the 63-year-old Mikoyan's sometimes smiling, sometimes glum countenance in about five hours of meetings Friday, there was no official word

Vehicle Skids Into Cruiser

Icy Streets Blamed For 2nd Such Crash

For the second time in a week, a cruiser was involved in a collision, police reported. It was one of two mishaps recorded Friday afternoon.

An icy street and parked cars obstructing the vision of the cruiser operator and the driver for the East Liverpool Cigarette Service were blamed for the collision at 12:56 p. m. at E. 3rd St. and Peach Alley, police said.

Patrolman Richard E. Higgins, 1978 Lisbon St., said he stopped at the intersection and then turned east on W. 3rd St. When he saw the station wagon driven by Samuel M. Wolfe, 46, of 638 Elson St., he applied his brakes but slid on the ice, Higgins said.

Wolfe said he saw the cruiser pull out of the intersection and applied his brakes but the station wagon slid about 25 feet into the cruiser.

Higgins and Wolfe said cars were parked so close to the intersection they were unable to see one another until it was too late.

Damage was estimated at $139.88 to the hood, grille and radiator of the station wagon while police said there was slight damage to the bumper of the cruiser.

A slippery street also was blamed for a collision of a car operated by Emery M. Dexter, 35, of 276 Drain St. and the stopped car of Leonard Hanlon of Logan St. at 3:19 p. m. at E. 5th and Golding Sts.

Dexter told police he turned from Golding onto E. 5th St. and saw Hanlon's stopped car. Dexter said he applied his brakes but was unable to stop.

to prove it. On the contrary, such private indications as were available from qualified sources indicated that during all this talk Mikoyan had not come up with the hoped-for—but hardly expected—indications of acceptable compromise on critical German questions.

Florida Church Bells To Protest Mikoyan

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — The bells of scores of Florida Catholic churches will ring in protest Tuesday when Soviet Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan visits the state.

Archbishop Joseph Patrick Hurley of the St. Augustine diocese has called on all Catholics in his diocese to attend special masses Tuesday "on this mournful occasion when Mikoyan defiles the soil of Florida." The diocese covers most of the north and central portions of the state.

He recommended the masses be accompanied by the tolling of church bells.

Mikoyan and his party are scheduled to arrive Tuesday at Tampa to begin a two or three day visit to the state. They tentatively plan to tour citrus groves in Polk County and then go to Miami.

Woman Injures Arm In Tumble On Ice

An W. 8th St. woman is in "good" condition today at Rochester General Hospital with a fractured arm received in a fall on ice about noon Friday.

Mrs. Irene Brooks, 60, wife of John Brooks, 949 W. 8th St., was taken to City Hospital for preliminary treatment then transferred to Rochester.

Also treated yesterday at City Hospital were Thomas Blasinski, 27, of Church St., Chester, who lacerated a finger while working as a deckhand loader on a Dravo Corp. dredge, and Miss Sheila Werntz, 12, daughter of Theodore Werntz of Virginia Ave., Midland, who fractured her left wrist in a fall on ice last night.

County Health Board Will Discuss Budget

LISBON — The Columbiana County Health Board will meet Monday at 8 p. m. at the Courthouse to discuss the 1959 budget. The board requested $54,070 but it was trimmed by the county Budget Commission to $43,860.

Confronted with this shortage of $10,210 for the year, the board at the December meeting discussed ways to meet the emergency and decided to curtail services.

A health levy, which would have made up the deficit, was defeated in the election Nov. 4 for the second time.

Wide Hunt On In California

Gunman Believed Holding Family Hostage 2nd Time

GARDEN GROVE, Calif. (AP) — Hundreds of officers with drawn guns searched a square-mile of this Los Angeles suburb today for a young gunman believed to be holding a family hostage for the second time in a week.

The youth and his partner were ambushed by police Friday night, tried to shoot their way out, and one was captured. The other, trailing blood, disappeared in a residential area.

Policemen were rushed in from a dozen nearby cities. They stopped every car and went into every house and garage, guns ready.

The officers identified their quarry as Charles Averill, 19, of Long Beach, Calif. They say he and Joseph Armstrong, 20, also of Long Beach, are the men who terrorized a family in nearby Anaheim a week ago after escaping from police who caught them in a liquor store holdup.

They've been sought throughout southern California ever since. Friday night the police were tipped they were going to call on a teenage girl friend. Six policemen hid in her house.

When Averill came to the door the girl let him in. But he spotted an officer hiding behind a door and immediately opened fire. He was answered with a burst from a submachine gun and apparently wounded in the neck.

Firing as he went, Averill ran back to the car in which Armstrong waited, and they roared off with the police in close pursuit, firing rifles and shotguns.

A block away the car failed to make a turn and crashed into the curb. The men split up. Armstrong running into a nearby house and Averill disappearing in an orange grove. Armstrong was carrying a rifle, but made no attempt to use it and was grabbed by officers inside the house.

Fourteen bullet holes were found in their car and there were blood stains on the front seat. One officer suffered a flesh wound in the abdomen in the gun fight.

Just a week ago a similar house-to-house search was made in Anaheim for two men who disappeared after a gun battle with police. They hid in the home of Bernard Havey, threatened death to his family if they were exposed, and slipped through a blockade the following morning by donning sailor uniforms taken from two occupants of the house, and forcing Mrs. Havey to drive them.

Both men have long police records and are wanted for numerous recent holdups and burglaries, said police.

Kaycees Invite Area Councils To District Initiation

Knights of Columbus Councils from Midland, Weirton, Toronto and Steubenville have been invited to the district second degree initiation to be held Sunday at 1:45 p. m. in the Wellsville Immaculate Conception Parochial School Hall.

James McGowan of East Liverpool, district deputy, will be in charge, assisted by these grand knights, James Bucheit, East Liverpool Carroll Council 509; Paul Karaffa, Salineville Council 2389; Louis A. McKenna, Lisbon Council 4049; William Lynch, East Palestine Reagon Council 1890, and James Ross, Wellsville Council.

Fred Baldasare of Wellsville will lead the rites. Ross will direct the choir. Fr. William Lawler of Wellsville will offer prayer.

Following the initiation, a meeting will be held of all district six-point general program chairman, committee chairmen and all council officers. McGowan will preside.

Resignation Accepted By Park Commission

The resignation of James A. Forbes, 708 Broadway, was accepted at a meeting of the Hammond Park Commission of Wellsville Friday night at the Carnegie Public Library.

Election of officers was deferred until April. The commission discussed a successor to Forbes but no action was taken. The commission makes a recommendation to City Council, which appoints.

Forbes' term expires in April 1960. The term of Fire Chief Robert Lewis, chairman, expires next April. Another meeting will be held Feb. 20 to select the persons to be recommended for the posts.

The commission also discussed finances for the coming year.

Woman, Son Held To Court For Burglary

A 38-year-old East Liverpool woman and her son, 19, were bound over to the Grand Jury Friday afternoon in Municipal Court on burglary charges in connection with the looting of a home on W. 3rd St. Thursday.

Judge George L. Brokaw fixed bond at $1,000 each for Mrs. Betty Wolfe, 107 W. Church Alley, and her son, Robert. Another son, 15, also was arrested in connection with the burglary, but he will be referred to Juvenile Court because of his age, police said.

Mrs. Wolfe and her elder son are accused of taking $23 in a burglary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyle, 335½ W. 3rd St. In statements given police by the two sons, the loot was fixed at $23, although the Boyles said the loss totaled $80 to $90. Mr. and Mrs. Boyle said they missed $60 to $70 in change that they were saving in a drawer, plus about $20 in currency.

In his statement to police, Robert said he and his mother entered the Boyle home to get the money while the younger boy remained outside.

Mrs. Wolfe's daughter, Gladys, 18, is a baby-sitter for the Boyle family, police said. However, she was not at the Boyle house at the time of the theft, as she had received permission to take the child she was watching to her own home Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Boyle were absent, as both are employed, officers explained.

Mrs. Wolfe and her son both waived the reading of the affidavits and the preliminary hearings, pleaded not guilty and asked to be bound over to the Grand Jury. They were represented by Atty. John B. MacDonald. Solicitor Richard J. Clark appeared for the city.

Bishop Will Conduct Communion At Chester

The Rt. Rev. Roy G. Campbell, Episcopal bishop for the West Virginia Diocese, will make his annual visit to St. Matthew's Episcopal Church at Chester Sunday and conduct Communion.

The service will be held at 9 a. m. with the Rev. E. S. Gilley of the Weirton church in charge. Bishop Campbell is a resident of Charleston.

Evangelistic Service Launched At Mission

The Rev. Robert Farwell, superintendent, said nightly evangelistic services are being held at 7:30 at the Community Rescue Mission, 215 Broadway.

A meeting of area church women will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. to organize an auxiliary. All interested women are welcome, he said.

Toronto Rallies In Fourth Quarter To Edge Chester, 46-41

Bucey's Scoring Decides Outcome

By CHUCK CRONIN

The Chester Panthers extended unbeaten Toronto to the limit Friday night before bowing, 46-41, at Toronto.

It took a fourth-quarter rally, sparked by John Bucey, a clutch-shooting senior guard, to overcome the scrappy squad coached by Max Tuttle and preserve the perfect record of the reigning Sectional AA champs.

come the scrappy squad coached by Max Tuttle and preserve the perfect record of the reigning Sectional AA champs.

Coach Paul Kalivoda's Red Knights received a bad scare before regaining their poise in the final minutes to pull the game out.

BUCEY, WHO sat out the entire third quarter because of four personal fouls, came off the bench in the fourth to bring Toronto from behind with three quick buckets before leaving for good with two minutes left. He led all scorers with 17 points.

The two squads played slow, methodical control ball during the first half, with emphasis on defensive maneuvers instead of a high-powered offense.

Momentum, however, picked up in the second half and the action reached a feverish pitch, with rugged rebounding efforts of both teams highlighting the action.

Chester's Bill Myers, only 5-10, was a bundle of fury on the boards the entire game and nearly stole the show with his scrappy brand of defense. Myers hit for 12 points — matched by clever guard Davey Brookers — who was held to his second lowest point outburst of the year.

ONLY FIVE Chester players saw action and each turned in commendable performances. Junior Bob Shaffer pumped in 10 points on four goals and a pair of free throws, while center Frank Kenney, who also sparked on rebounding, hit for five. Guard Bob McMahon finished with one field goal for two points — his lowest mark in 10 games.

Bucey was nearly the whole show for Toronto, ripping the nets for eight field goals and a free in three quarters of action.

With Toronto trailing by five points in the fourth quarter, 35-30, Bucey ignited the team with his pinpoint shooting that enabled the Knights to pull away to a five-point lead, 40-35, with only three minutes left.

Chester managed to narrow the bulge to only three points, 44-41, in the waning moments but missed bonus free throw by Brookers saw Toronto regain possession after the shot, score a quick goal and hold on for the victory.

Chester hit 68 per cent at the foul stripe in missing only 8 of 25. In the third quarter, eight consecutive free throws put the Panthers in front after Toronto had built up a 22-15 lead.

Toronto, while outscoring the Panthers from the floor, 20 to 12, received only 11 trips to the foul line and converted six times for 55 per cent.

SIMILARITY in both style of play and size resulted in one of the most evenly-matched games of the season.

At the start, Shaffer hit on a push shot from the side and Brookers added a drive shot to give Chester a 4-0 lead after two minutes had elapsed.

Before Chester could score again, Bucey had tallied on a jump shot and Ralph Paisley, a hustling 5-8 guard, had scored twice for a 6-4 Toronto lead when the buzzer sounded.

The second quarter again found both squads playing for the sure shot and not taking many chances from the outside. Bucey hit four goals in the second period and Karavis added a pair to help Toronto to a 19-15 halftime lead.

CHESTER'S 17-point spurge then gave it a 32-28 third-quarter lead as the Knights mustered only three field goals after the halftime tip when Bucey left the struggle with four personals charged against him.

His re-entrance again in the fourth quarter, however, proved costly to Chester as Toronto regained its scoring punch and enjoyed a big 18-point period.

Chester hit only two goals in the final period plus five foul shots for nine points — half of Toronto's production.

Bucey was the only Toronto cager to reach double scoring figures. Karavis and Paisley each finished with eight points and Wadas had six.

In the preliminary, the Toronto reserves edged the Chester reserves on a last second laying shot by Frank Spandine, a former Iron-dale cager. Spandine tallied with the score tied 29-29 to give Coach Earl Beiderman's reserves a 31-29 victory.

Reed scored nine points and Spandine eight for the winners. Mike Elliott and Pep Daugherty with eight points led Coach Dom Amedeo's Panther reserves.

South Siders Lose, 65-45

SOUTH SIDE'S Rams were held to five field goals in the second half in being trounced by Avella, 65-45, Friday night at Avella.

The loss was South Side's seventh against as many triumphs.

Three Avella cagers hit for double figures as the winners gained their third victory in the section 15 league play. South Side is 2-3 in the league.

The Rams broke on top with a 15-6 lead after one quarter, trailed only by three points at halftime, 27-23, but fell way behind in the two ensuing quarters.

Leading the Avella five were Rankin with 20 points, Deco with 18 and Liis with 17. James Kerr hit for 16 and Rich Ashcroft 12 to spark South Side's attack.

South Side salvaged the preliminary with a 35-16 drubbing of the Avella reserves. Danny Parsons topped the reserve scoring for the Rams with 11 points, while Jimmy McLaughlin had 8.

Armstead Gains Split Decision Over Matthews

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lightweight Paulie Armstead of Los Angeles was in line today for a fight with top title contender Ken-ny Lane because of his split decision victory over Len Matthews of Philadelphia.

Matchmaker Jack Leonard of the Hollywood Stadium said the bout will be held here late in February.

In a nationally televised scrap Friday night, Armstead won the vote of Referee Jimmy Wilson, 97-95, and Judge Lee Grossman, 96-95. Judge George Latka made it 96-94 for Matthews, and most of the experts sided with him.

Every ringside boxing writer except one had Matthews the winner — some close, some decisively. The lone dissenter called it a draw. Matthews, unbeaten in 16 previous fights, was an 8-5 betting favorite. He landed by far the harder punches in a 10-round fight filled with action.

Armstead, 21, California champion, was naturally delighted with the decision and apparently a little surprised, too. It was his 23rd victory in 28 fights.

Minerva Five Nips Palestine

MINERVA — The Minerva Lions took a firmer grip on first place in the Tri-County League here Friday night by edging East Palestine, 57-53.

East Palestine, in the game all the way, dropped its fifth game against three victories this season.

The Bulldogs were on top at halftime, 28-26, but fell behind, 43-39, at the end of the third period and never again regained their poise.

Actually, East Palestine dropped the contest at the foul line again. The Bulldogs scored 24 field goals to Minerva's 20, but the Lions managed 17 of 21 fouls.

The Minerva reserves defeated East Palestine in the preliminary, 62-49.

Potter Grapplers Pin South Siders

East Liverpool High School's once-beaten wrestling team scored its fifth triumph of the season Friday night at Memorial Auditorium over surprisingly strong South Side, 25-14.

Though showing an unimpressive 0-3 mark at match time, the Pennsylvania squad proved stronger than anticipated in forcing Coach Lou Venditti's Potters to come from behind and sweep four upper weight events to record the victory.

Behind 14-13 after the first seven matches, the Potters gained decisions in the next four to pin the fourth defeat of the season on South Side.

Nick Musuraca started the Potters on the way to an eventual victory by decisioning Burratti, 5-0, in an 156-pound match. The next three then went to East Liverpool as Jim Bise, Bill O'Neill and John McKinnen each decided their opponents by convincing scores.

The match was a little unusual in that it saw no pins and had three forfeits. East Liverpool forfeited the 105-pound event due to a shoulder injury of sophomore John Goempe. Skip Nortrup of the Potters was awarded a victory in the 114-pound event when South Side failed to provide an opponent.

Another forfeit resulted in the 129-pound match when McLaughlin was ruled overweight. McCullough was awarded the win for the Potters.

South Side's Baker snapped a four-match win streak of promising sophomore John Goodballet, who lost a narrow 6-5 decision.

However, the rugged O'Neill continued undefeated for the year with an 8-0 decision over Ross of South Side, and Musuraca gained his fifth victory. McKinnen has lost only one match thus far.

Springer also extended his victory streak for the Potters with a 5-0 decision over Hall of South Side. Springer, a 140-pounder, is also undefeated for the year, along with Bise who shows four wins.

The Potter squad is now idle until next Saturday when Venditti's grappling forces will visit Bridgeport for a match with one of the tougher wrestling teams in the northeastern Ohio.

The results:

105-Miscuk (SS), forfeit.

114-Nortrup (EL), forfeit.

122-Seik (SS), decisioned Boucher (EL), 3-0.

129-McCullough (EL), forfeit.

United Records Ninth Win Over Dover Quint, 46-40

HANOVERTON — United Local's Golden Eagles—the state's third-rated Class A cage squad staged a second half rally to edge Dover St. Josephs, 46-40, here Friday night.

The usually hot-shooting Eagles had an off night against the surprising Dover squad coached by Joe LaScola, a former Wellsview athlete, in sinking only 18 of 72 shots for 25 per cent.

United, trailing at halftime by a 14-12 score, built up a 32-28 third quarter lead and managed to snare the victory behind the scoring of rangy Frank Shagnot, 6-4 center, and Jim Summer, a husky 230-pound guard.

Both cagers were held nearly scoreless in the first half, but came back strong in the second and finished with 16 points each as United racked up its ninth victory of the season. The Eagles have lost one of 10 games, upset by Fairfield-Waterford in an overtime battle.

Dover hit 15 of 45 shots for 45 per cent, but suffered its eighth loss in nine games for the year. Shagnot sparked United's second half rally, defensively, by pulling in 18 rebounds. Summer scored 14 of his 16 points in the second half to aid Coach Bob Penrod's squad in a quest for state recognition.

In the preliminary, the United reserves triumphed over the Dover reserves, 38-24.

3 U.S. Tennis Stars Advance In Australia Event

ADELAIDE (AP) — Alex Olmedo, Barry MacKay and Chris Crawford struggled through 109-degree heat today to advance in the Australian National Tennis Championships.

Olmedo, hero of the U. S. Davis Cup victory in the Challenge Round last month, defeated Wayne Reid, Australia, 6-3, 6-1, 6-1. The Peruvian-born lad from Southern California applied pressure only when he had to.

MacKay, of Dayton, Ohio had to come from behind to beat Ken Fletcher, a Queensland junior, 4-6, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Crawford, of Piedmont, Calif., rallied after losing the first set to defeat Barry Phillips Moore, Australia, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3.

Scramble For No. 1 Basketball Position Hits Mid-Season

Five All Set To Challenge N.C. Staters

By The Associated Press
The scrambling for college basketball's No. 1 position goes into a mid-season showdown today with five of the elite readying a challenge to North Carolina State's shaky grip on the top spot.

The Wolfpack from Raleigh, bounced by rival North Carolina in overtime Wednesday only two days after succeeding Kentucky as No. 1 in the weekly Associated Press poll, plays at Wake Forest tonight.

It'll probably have to be a big victory to hold off another change in the national leadership.

North Carolina, third-ranked and idle, can sit back and watch developments as Kentucky, Kansas State, Auburn, Cincinnati and St. John's, N.Y., fire their challenges.

Kentucky, No. 2, sought its 14th victory in 15 starts in a nationally televised afternoon game — (NBC) — at home against rough Tennessee.

Tonight, fourth-rated Kansas State (12-1) plays at Missouri and fifth-ranked Auburn (10-0) seeks its 22nd straight victory over a two-year span against Alabama at Montgomery. Sixth-ranked Cincinnati (9-2) plays at Drake, and St. John's, No. 9, goes for an 11-1 record at Philadelphia's Palestra against St. Joseph's (Pa.).

Bradley, No. 7, made its bid Friday night with a romping 92-73 victory over Toledo for its 11th triumph in 13 tries.

Along with North Carolina, the two others of the top ten — eighth-ranked Michigan State and West Virginia, No. 10, are idle.

(The day's other TV offerings, incidentally, are regional telecasts matching Maryland and Duke, Kansas at Oklahoma, and Purdue at Minnesota.)

Nine of the major loops were in action Friday night.

Princeton pulled into a tie with idle Dartmouth in the Ivy League at 4-0, rallying in the last 10 minutes to hand Columbia its 12th straight loss, 75-66. Penn took over third place at 3-2, beating Cornell 63-57.

Gary Hall and Dick O'Brien led a slow motion offense that gave Tulane a 69-59 Southeastern Conference victory over Louisiana State.

Texas A&M, stirring again in the Southwest Conference race, thrashed Texas 73-29. Baylor nipped Rice 46-45 in other SWC game.

Stanford and UCLA took over first place in the Pacific Coast Conference with 4-2 records after bouncing the co-leaders. Stanford toppled California 56-53 and UCLA whipped Southern California 57-53.

In the Mid-American Conference, Ohio U. routed Western Michigan 83-61, and Idaho State's Rocky Mountain leaders walloped Western Colorado 91-35.

New Mexico State (formerly New Mexico A&M) won a Border Conference test from West Texas 81-57, and in the West Coast A.A., St. Mary's beat Santa Clara 65-54.

Brigham Young slipped further behind Utah's pace in the Skyline Conference, beaten 72-62 by Colorado State U. Utah State clipped Wyoming 82-76.

FIGHT RESULTS

By The Associated Press
HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Paulie Armstrong, 135, Los Angeles, outpointed Len Matthews, 133½, Philadelphia, 10.

VERNAL, Utah — Lamar Clark, 183, Cedar City, Utah, knocked out Phil Paxton, 193, Phoenix, 1.

TOKYO — Sadao Yaita, 122½, Japan, outpointed Pascual Perez, 110, Argentina, 10 (non-title).

SAO PAULO, Brazil — Dogomar Martinez, 173½, Uruguay, outpointed Luiz Inacio, 174, Brazil, 15. (Martinez wins South American light-heavyweight title).

26 Yachts From Five Nations In Regatta

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Twenty-six yachts from five nations, including three from the United States, will sail Sunday morning in a regatta over 1,200 miles of Atlantic waters, from here to Rio de Janeiro.

The American boat Argyle, skippered by William T. Moore, is the favorite, although many of its rivals are given an even chance, particularly several of the 14 Argentine boats.

Top Rebounder

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Rahuba of Steubenville College has taken over first place in rebounding percentages among the nation's small college basketball teams. He grabbed 50 rebounds in his last two games to bring his average to 21.2.

Wall Shoots Into Lead In Crosby's Golf

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby's $50,000 golf funfest swung off on phase three today with lean Art Wall Jr. four strokes in front of the pack, thanks to a booming driver and a putter that wouldn't miss.

The 35-year-old stringbean from Pocono Manor, Pa., ripped up the Monterey Peninsula course, one of three in use for this 72-hole event, with a 7-under-par 65 and a two-day total of 134.

An hour later, flamboyant Jimmy Demaret, who hasn't played a tournament since last July, came along on the same course and took some of the glitter off Wall's round with a brilliant 35-29-64.

The blazing round left dapper Jimmy tied with young Jim Ferre with 138. Ferre had a 68 at the tough Cypress Point layout and drew Monterey for his third round. Wall went to Pebble Beach today. That's where the final 18 will be played Sunday.

Bunched at 140 were Jay Hebert, who won the pro-amateur prize last year, Gene Littler and Dow Finsterwald. Nine were tied at 141—Bud Ward, Joe Kirkwood Jr., Leroy Silva, Wesley Ellis Jr., Bo Wining, Julius Boros, Billy Maxwell, John McMullin and Bob Rosburg. Maxwell and Boros led the first day with 67s at Monterey.

Wall led the pro-am division with partner Charlie Coe, U.S. amateur king.

Their best ball 60 gave them 125, a stroke ahead of Ellis and Frank Tatum, and Demaret and Pete Elliott, California football coach.

Star Bowling Led By Welu

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Billy Welu, leader of the All Star Bowling Tournament midway in the four-day finals, is big (6-4, 225 pounds), jovial and at 26 has earned himself a nice pile of money.

Billy, as a student at St. Thomas university in Houston, Tex., set pins, practicing after the paying customers had left.

After a succession of minor tournament achievements he left Houston to join the St. Louis Budweisers in 1955 and helped them win the national team title. Since then he has hooked up with the St. Louis Falstaffs, arch enemies of the Buds.

While taking his share of laurels in various tournaments, Billy made some lucrative investments in three bowling establishments across the country.

Billy's talent for winning by narrow margins has been an important factor in his success. He had knocked down 227 pins less than second-place Lou Campi, in the first two days of finals but won six more games.

The Petersen point system, governing tourney finals, awards one point for every fifty pins and one point for every game. Welu has 160-12 points and Campi, 158-39.

Joe Joseph of Lansing, Mich., who bowls with the Pfeiffer team in Detroit, was third at the eighth-round recess with 18-14, helped by a 6878 pinfall.

Don Carter, the defending All-Star champion from St. Louis, in tenth place Thursday, won eleven games Friday and pushed his point total to 152-19 to take fifth place.

The defending women's champion was in 11th place at the eighth round. Merle Matthews, Long Beach, Calif., who took the title from Marion Ladewig last year, had 65-32 points at the eighth round.

Columbus Fetes Leading Athletes

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's capital was also the nation's sports capital Friday night as 42 of the country's top-flight athletes were honored by the Touchdown Club.

The stars of football, baseball, golf, bowling, boxing, harness racing, coaching, basketball, track, auto racing and swimming were handed awards and made talks in the four-hour program.

Ageless Archie Moore, the light-heavyweight champion, just about stole the oratorical show, and was the only bearded athlete among the recipients.

He told of his $140,000 offer to England's heavyweight champion, Henry Cooper, for a 10-round non-title fight in London in June, and said the offer had been accepted—moving him a step nearer a return match with heavyweight king Floyd Patterson.

Then he turned to Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, Baltimore Colt lineman, and Jim Brown, Cleveland Brown fullback, with: "Now is the time for you fellows to make your move. Ask your teams for what you want, and if they don't give it to you, I can turn you into pro fighters and get you plenty."

Lipscomb was honored as the pro lineman of the year, and Brown as the pro player of the year. Neither indicated he was ready to give up football for a ring career.

Weeb Ewbank, coach of the NFL champs, said "it took time to build our club into the championship. We took a lot of players nobody else wanted, but we got along pretty well with them."

Special awards went to Charley Conerly of New York, Bobby Layne of Pittsburgh, Norm Van Brocklin of Philadelphia, Tobin Rote of Detroit and Y. A. Tittle of San Francisco, all of whom have thrown 100 or more touchdown passes as professional quarterbacks.

Otto Graham of Cleveland, Sam Baugh of Washington, and Sid Luckman of the Chicago Bears were lauded as the three greatest professional quarterbacks of all time.

About 700 attended the dinner, and Mel Allen was the master of ceremonies.

Boyer, Blanchard Seen Yankees' Top Prospects

NEW YORK (AP)—Cletis Boyer, the youngest of the ball-playing Boyer clan, and Johnny Blanchard, a long-ball hitting catcher, appear to be the best bets to make the grade with the Yankees this year.

Boyer is a shortstop but he probably will be given a shot at the regular left field berth. Blanchard is a former outfielder who headed Hall of Famer Bill Dickey's advice and switched to catching. The qualification of both is the ability to hit the long ball.

Boyer played at Richmond last year, Blanchard at Denver. The 22-year-old Boyer batted .284 but slammed 22 home runs and drove in 71 runs. The 26-year-old Blanchard batted .291 but walloped 19 home runs and drove in 96 runs.

Boyer, whose assets are strong, quick wrists, was acquired by the Yankees in a trade with Kansas City several years ago. The Athletics had paid him a reported $50,000 bonus but gave up on him after his two-year apprenticeship had expired.

Blanchard is expected to move in behind Elston Howard as the No. 2 catcher with Yogi Berra acting as a handy man, alternating between catching and the outfield with an occasional fling at first base. At least, that's what Manager Casey Stengel said in a winter press conference.

Seven pitchers, a catcher, five infielders and three outfielders make up the list of Yankee newcomers. The best record is sported by righthander John Gabler of Overland Park, Kan., who posted a 19-7 record at Denver last year.

The records of the others should give Whitey Ford, Bob Turley, Don Larsen, Ryne Duren and Co. no cause to worry.

Mark Freeman, with a 13-10 record at Denver, will make his fourth trip to a Yankee training camp. From Richmond come righthanders Jim Bronstad, 13-12;

Republicans Still Play Key Role

DiSalle And Party Chiefs Are Not Forgetting GOP

By DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS—All the talk about the Democrats' newly acquired control of the State House tends to create the impression among political laymen that the Republicans currently are forgotten men here.

However true that may be in some branches of Ohio's government, there is one small group very much aware of the GOP's presence. That is Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and his Democratic leaders in the 103rd General Assembly. They recognize that the minority party can be mighty important.

One basic reason is that, although the Democrats hold substantial majorities in both chambers, there are times when they will have to depend upon Republican votes to get what they want.

The most obvious example is legislation bearing the emergency clause to put it into immediate effect. Such a bill requires a two-thirds vote, or two more votes than the Democrats have in the Senate and 14 more votes than they have in the House of Representatives.

The new majority leaders were introduced to that problem when they pushed through Gov. DiSalle's cabinet salary bill the very first week of the session.

They will face it on at least one other major legislative subject—supplemental unemployment benefits, a plank in the Democratic campaign platform. Two of the three bills already introduced to permit simultaneous payment of SUB and state unemployment compensation carry the emergency clause in the hope of quickly releasing SUB funds frozen by controversy and court action.

Another reason the Democratic leaders are not overlooking the Republican colleagues in the Assembly is that the majority chieftains, though veterans in the legislature, are new to their positions. Because the Republicans controlled the legislature for 10 years before the present session, the most experienced leaders in both houses are on the minority side.

This can prove a boon to the Democrats not only in getting needed votes on occasion, as when House Republican Leader Roger Cloud, speaker in the last two assemblies, spoke in favor of the salary bill, but also in handling the harassments that sometimes beset even the most experienced in legislative ponderings.

An example arose this week when some individual Republicans, old hands at parliamentary practice, were playing hob with Senate Majority Leader Frank W. King's efforts to accomplish the formality of adopting permanent rules for that chamber. His counterpart in the minority, C. Stanley Mechem, president pro tem in the last two sessions, arose in the middle of the skirmish and urged his fellow Republicans to stop the horseplay and get on with the business.

The presence of so many "greenhorns" in the Assembly further increases the value of the contribution the veterans of either party can make. With 45 new faces in the House and eight newcomers in the Senate, the Democratic leaders may very well rely at times on the GOP's most experienced men for help in keeping things running smoothly, both on the floor and in the committees where the real work is done.

At his get-acquainted luncheon this week for his cabinet members and the legislative leaders of both parties, Gov. DiSalle urged the minority in the legislature to keep close watch on his administration and its program and to offer constructive criticisms. A constructive opposition, he pointed out, is the backbone of the two-party system that has made American democracy so successful.

He added the word of advice that constructive opposition is the best way for a minority party to work its way back to majority control.

That may very well be what the Republican leaders in the 103rd Assembly have in mind. It also may very well be another reason they have not been forgotten by the Democrats.

Willoughby Man, 35, Indicted For Posing As Missile Agent

CLEVELAND (AP)—Thomas W. Savage, 35, of Willoughby went only as far as the 11th grade in Cleveland schools, but he was an avid reader of scientific writings.

He picked up enough knowledge about missile matters, federal authorities say, to be able to convince one Cleveland manufacturer—for a time at least—that he was an assistant to Dr. James Killian Jr., scientific adviser to President Eisenhower.

A federal grand jury Friday indicted Savage on charges of representing himself to heads of Cleveland concerns as an agent of the U.S. Navy Automatic Missile Testing Corps at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

James C. Sennett, assistant U.S. attorney, said Savage apparently was trying to land a job with the companies he visited and had hoped to give the impression he could obtain contracts through his knowledge of missile projects and government needs.

Savage visited four companies, Sennett said. The indictments mentioned only two firms—the Barth Corp. and the Lincoln Electric Co.

In each case, Sennett said, Savage tried to initiate a contract for a missile tracking device to be used on project moon-shot.

Barth Corp. heads assembled the production board to hear about Savage's proposals. But Barth officials subsequently became suspicious and Allen Barth, manager of the production department, called the White House and learned that no such person was connected with the missile projects.

Savage's address was given as 22863 West Spaulding, Ave., Willoughby.

Jury's Unable To Reach Verdict; New Trial Seen

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A jury was unable to reach a verdict in the case of Joseph Sabatino 67-year-old retired steelworker who admitted two slayings in a swimming-pool dispute. Officials say Sabatino will be tried again on the manslaughter charges.

Common Pleas Judge John W. Ford dismissed the jury late Friday night after the jurors, who had deliberated about seven hours, voted nine to three that they would be unable to agree on a verdict.

Sabatino's defense was based on a claim of self defense and the contention that his property was invaded by his neighbor, Dr. Jack Little, husband of one of the victims, and by guests at a party at the Little's swimming pool.

He admitted on the witness stand that he fired the shots that killed Mrs. Pauline Little, 34, and Roland E. Page, 30, last July 20.

The fatal shootings climaxed a long feud between the two neighbors over the swimming pool.

Farmer Pleads Guilty To Tax Evasion Count

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Farmer Ralph L. Linton, 61, of Rockford pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court Friday to charges of tax evasion.

Judge Frank L. Klobb continued the case to Jan. 20.

Linton who owns 866 acres of land in Mercer and Van Wert counties, declared an income of $2,500 in 1952, an income of $956 in 1953 and a loss of $643 in 1954.

Internal Revenue agents figured he had actual incomes of $19,904 in 1952, $10,680 in 1953 and $6,446 in 1954.

Ex-Judge Dies Just Before He Was To Be Feted

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Earl K. Solether, 75, retired Wood County Common Pleas judge, died Friday night just before he was to have been honored by the Wood County Bar Assn. at a testimonial dinner.

Judge Solether, who retired Dec. 31 after serving the Common Pleas bench for 20 years, died of a cerebral hemorrhage in Wood County Hospital. He had been preparing a speech for the dinner when he was stricken.

He first took office as judge Jan. 1, 1939, and was reelected to the bench three times. He began practice of law here in 1908, and had served as prosecuting attorney 1915-1919. Judge Solether had served as president of the Ohio Title Assn., president of the county bar association, vice president of the Ohio Common Pleas Judges' Assn., and president of the judicial section of the Ohio Bar Assn.

He leaves his wife and two daughters.

Jurors To Be Drawn For Road Land Cases

LISBON — Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard has instructed the Jury Commissioners to convene Monday at 2 p.m. to draw 25 names of jurors to serve in four highway land trials.

The appropriation cases were filed by the State Highway Department against owners of land taken for road improvements after owners refused state prices for the tracts.

The Hookstown Grange held "open house" Thursday at the Grange Hall after the annual dues-paying coverdish dinner.

Carl McCormick, master, presided. Harry Lutton, lecturer, was in charge of the program and showed a film, "The Magic Barrel," produced by the Sun Oil Co.

Final plans were made for a public card party to be held Jan. 31 at the Grange Hall as a benefit for the March of Dimes.

Next meeting will be Feb. 5.

Sailors Found Burned Body

Navy Nurse Found Dead Reported Expecting Baby

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP)—A Navy nurse found dead and afire beside her auto alongside a busy highway was pregnant, an autopsy revealed Friday. Authorities hoped a pathological examination will show how she met death.

The badly burned body of Lt. (j.g.) Barbara Ray Mitchell, 29, was found by three sailors Thursday 15 feet off U.S. Highway 50. Acting Coroner Harry Skiles said that the autopsy failed to establish the cause of death but did reveal that she was from three to five months pregnant.

He said barbiturates were found in her system but not enough to have caused death.

The nurse's mother, Mrs. Claire Carlson of Chicago, learned only Friday night that her daughter was dead. Mrs. Carlson had accompanied her daughter to California earlier in the week. She was informed of the tragedy by a newsman who met her bus at Des Moines, Iowa, as she was returning home.

The grief-stricken mother said her daughter, by a previous marriage, had been in good spirits when she left her Wednesday. She said Barbara's father is dead.

Barbara was a "very quiet, very religious Catholic girl who had no steady boy friend," Mrs. Carlson said. She added that her daughter was enthusiastic about a new assignment on Guam.

Among many aspects of Lt. Mitchell's death still shrouded in mystery was a .25-caliber pistol found in the charred car. The gun was too damaged to determine whether it had been fired, but no bullet wound was found.

Commenting on the report of pregnancy, Navy officials said the nurse would have been given an automatic but honorable discharge if her condition had been discovered. Her records at Treasure Island, where she had registered at the bachelor women's quarters, listed her as unmarried.

Sheriff's officers emphasized that the possibility of foul play, suicide, mishap were all under consideration. Pathological examination results will take several days.

One of the baffling elements of the case was the source of the intense flames that consumed the car. Gasoline in the vehicle's gas tank did not ignite.

Recognize Each Other

Mother, Daughter United After 8-Year Separation

COLUMBUS, Ohio, (AP)—A mother can tell. She can pick out her child from a crowd like a magnet seeking out a piece of iron.

And it seems that a mother never forgets her child's face, no matter how long they have been separated or how young her baby was when last seen.

That was the case Friday when Mrs. Denzel Gale spotted her daughter, Stenie, 12, coming off an airplane that brought her here on the last leg of a trip from East Germany.

They recognized each other immediately, embraced and cried.

Stenie was only 4 when Mrs. Gale fled East Germany to the West. The child was put in the care of Mrs. Gale's parents, and except for one brief meeting after that, it was the last time they saw each other.

The brief encounter occurred on the East-West German border. Stenie, with her grandmother, was on the communist side of the line; Mrs. Gale on the other. They met, and mother and daughter hugged.

each other like it was for the last time.

Then a border guard literally tore them apart. Stenie was returned to her grandmother.

Mrs. Gale began a one-woman campaign to get her daughter out of East Germany. She enlisted the aid of several agencies, but none could help.

She met a young U. S. Air Force officer in West Germany and married him in 1953. They returned to this country and settled in Delaware, Ohio, north of here.

Thousands of miles from her daughter, and Mrs. Gale was still fighting for her return. Last year, the Gales contacted the American Red Cross.

The Red Cross contacted its East German counterpart. An arrangement was made.

Friday, Stenie was flown to New York city, then winged her way into Columbus and into her mother's arms.

"Welcome home," said Mrs. Gale, through her tears.

"I'm glad to be here," said Stenie.

Dr. Crehore, 90, Of Engineering Fame, Is Taken

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Albert Cushing Crehore, 90, who at the turn of the century was ranked as one of the nation's most brilliant electrical engineers, died Friday in Huron Road Hospital.

As an assistant professor of physics at Dartmouth he built an apparatus to measure the speed of projectiles and also was credited with devising a way to speed up by 25 per cent traffic on oceanic cables.

He wrote two books on atomic theory and propulsion at a time when little was known about either subject.

Between World War I and World War II Crehore vanished from the public eye and lived the life of a hermit in a shack behind a small house on the East Side.

In the last few years he had been working in a small laboratory in the General Electric Co.'s Nela Park—a place where he was employed for a while during the 1920s.

Dr. Crehore was the scion of a pioneer Western Reserve family. His great grandfather settled at Painesville in 1811.

Trucker Forfeits $25

LISBON — Darl L. Pecht, 27, of McVeytown, Pa., forfeited $25 bond Friday in Mayor John Todd's court when he failed to appear for a hearing on a charge of driving without a valid highway use tax sticker. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

School Board's Duties Discussed For Lions

A general discussion of Board of Education functions was given by Leo C. Lawrence, newly elected president, at the meeting of the Lions Club Friday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Lawrence substituted for Cpl. John Miller of the State Highway Patrol post at Lisbon, who apparently was held up by the snow.

Christ Pallis spoke briefly on a fishing experience in Canada. Charles Herman was program chairman.

Don Baxter, president, announced the Board of Directors will meet Feb. 2 at the home of James Johnston, 1129 Vine St.

Teamster Local Signs Pact With Food Chains

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Some 350 warehousemen of Teamsters Union Local 377 have accepted three-year contracts with three food chains. The pacts include a shorter work week with no decrease in pay and improved fringe benefits.

The contracts are with Loblaw, Century Food Markets and A & P. They are retroactive to Jan. 4, when the old contracts expired.

Coast Office Of IBOP Hit In Bomb Blast

Members of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters in East Liverpool received details Friday of damage to the union's eastern coast headquarters in Trenton, N. J., when a home made bomb exploded outside the front door Monday night.

Trenton police said no one was injured, although the bomb went off during a meeting of officials of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers Union, Local 9. The bomb ripped open a thick double-door less than six feet from the crowd of 100. Pieces of metal hit parked cars nearby and some tile flooring was ripped up near the shattered door.

Trenton police said they are testing the metal fragments to learn what type of bomb was used. No explanation for the blast was offered by the police or the union that was holding the meeting at the time of the explosion.

The thick door probably prevented serious injury to union officials, police said. They theorized a long fuse was used to allow the bomber plenty of time for a getaway. The union officials told police they rushed outside immediately after the blast, but saw no one.

The building is the east coast office of the IBOP and serves as the headquarters of Walter E. Clawges of Trenton, first vice president of the international union.

Ordinance Slated To Slash Fees For City Sign Painters

An ordinance to cut from $250 to $10 the annual fee for a city sign — painter's license is scheduled for presentation to Council Monday night — last in a series to revoke or amend antedated legislation on municipal permits.

The license is required for "bill-posting, advertising sign — painting, card — tacking and bill — distributing." A delegation of city sign — painters and bill — posters, in a conference with Council a few weeks ago, said the high fee was set up in depression days to help discourage cut — throat competition by itinerant concerns.

Other licensing ordinances affecting circuses, theaters and barber and beauty shops were enacted at the meeting Jan. 5. The changes are a result of a study of old legislation launched by Council early in 1958.

Second reading is also scheduled Monday night for a comprehensive ordinance licensing and regulating junk yard operations. It was given first reading with a 5-2 vote at the session Jan. 5. If the legislation moves in the normal course, it will be up for final passage Feb. 2.

DiSalle Raps Ex-Governor

Cites Right-Of-Way Pacts For Highways

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It's tough enough to acquire right-of-way land for highways, says Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. "But when you let the (highway) contract and then go out to acquire the right-of-way, it just makes it more difficult."

And that, he told newsmen Friday, is just what was done by the administration of Republican C. William O'Neill, whom Democrat DiSalle succeeded in office.

The governor said the O'Neill administration awarded contracts to build highways on land the state still didn't own—about 7½ million dollars worth of right-of-way, or a total of 558 parcels.

Today, he added, there's still 7½ million dollars worth of right-of-way to be acquired for contracts already awarded by the last administration.

One contract, the governor went on, was for 3 million dollars worth of work on Ohio 7 in Washington County — O'Neill's home county — and all 58 parcels of needed right-of-way have yet to be bought by the state.

DiSalle said he learned from New Highway Director Everett Preston that federal funds for highway work cannot be obtained until all right-of-way has been acquired for a project.

The governor also reported that about 100 State Highway Department employees have been fired to "eliminate deadwood," that more staff reductions are in prospect, in other departments as well, and that "we'll wind up with fewer people in the Liquor Department than when we started."

Fugitive For 52 Years Finds Good Life Does Pay Off

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph J. Hogan has found that leading a good life does pay off. He also discovered that a public agency has a heart.

Hogan, now 52, has been a fugitive for almost 32 years. In 1926 he stole a car in Cleveland. Sent to a federal road camp at Alderson, W.Va., in 1927, he escaped after serving three months of a three-year sentence.

Hogan got a job and married. In World War II he served as a tank driver and was awarded the Silver Star. Five years ago his wife died. Since then Hogan has been both father and mother to his five children.

Last month the FBI seized Hogan as a fugitive. He was sent to the Federal House of Detention. Hogan appealed to the Legal Aid Society for help. Attorney Bernard Moldow took the case. Moldow went before U.S. Dist. Judge Archie O. Dawson Friday and cited a proclamation issued by President Truman in 1945. Truman granted full pardon to any convict who served honorably in American forces for at least one year during World II.

Dawson freed Hogan on his own recognizance, pending a hearing on a full pardon Monday. The hearing is regarded as a technicality.

Senate GOP Committee Assignments Not Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans will not have their committee assignments ready today for an unusual Senate session called just to receive them.

The GOP Senate Committee on Committees scheduled a closed-door session to work on the assignments. One Republican leader said privately there were many knotty problems.

But Sen. Leyerett Saltonstall (R-Mass.), chairman of the Conference of all Republican Senators, said the conference would not meet until Monday to pass on the committee posts.

Billy Graham Heads For Hawaii And Rest

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham takes off for San Francisco en route to Hawaii today for a rest ordered by his doctors after treatment at Minnesota's Mayo Clinic for an eye ailment.

Graham came here by car Friday night from the clinic at Rochester.

George Wilson, his business manager, said Graham probably would spend two or three days in San Francisco before flying to Hawaii. Plans call for Mrs. Graham to fly from their Montreal, N.C. home to join her husband.

Gen. Marshall Gets Ike's Get-Well Wish

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — Gen. George C. Marshall, who has received thousands of messages since he suffered a slight stroke this week, remained in seclusion at Womack Army Hospital here today, his condition reported as satisfactory.

President Eisenhower's get-well wishes were added to those delivered to Mrs. Marshall, who has a private room near her husband's. She has read all the messages, but none has been read to Marshall.

3 Known Dead In Hotel Fire

4 Others May Have Perished In South

STUART, Fla. (AP) — At least three and possibly seven persons were killed today when fire swept a small hotel. Twenty-five other guests fled into 32-degree weather wearing nightshirts and underwear.

Fire Chief Rust Griffin announced the fatality toll while directing operations at the two-story, 40-room Commodore Hotel. It was still blazing four hours after the first alarm.

The hotel's register was destroyed, complicating the job of identifying the victims.

The hotel was a total loss, firemen said. Damage was estimated at $100,000.

One man who got out was Ernest Lee Daugherty who said he came to Stuart Dec. 29 from Dublin, N. C.

A hotel employee came running down the corridor at 4:30 a. m., Daugherty said, screaming that the hotel was on fire. Daugherty said he grabbed what clothes he could and got out.

One man with his clothes streaming flames was seen jumping from the second floor. Rubble from a collapsing wall buried him.

A witness to the leap was Paul R. Bailey, 24, of Atlanta, who was staying at the nearby St. Lucie Hotel. The falling body nearly hit him.

Bailey was taken to Martin County Hospital in a state of shock. It was his second brush with death in 12 hours.

Friday night, he helped pull a woman in a stalled car off the Florida East Coast Railroad tracks only moments before a train roared by.

Columbus Firm Buys County Trucking Firm

The B. & N. Transportation Co. with headquarters at Columbus, serving East Liverpool and vicinity for many years, has sold its operating rights and equipment to the Commercial Motor Freight, Inc., of Columbus. It was founded in 1922.

Commercial Motor maintains its administrative office in Columbus and operates 20 terminals, which over the past few years have been completely modernized. The terminals are located in Ohio, Indiana, and West Virginia.

With the acquisition of the B. & N., the company recently opened a terminal at Wheeling. Its fleet consists of 1,350 units of trucks, trailers and tractors, a number of which will be allocated to this territory. At present, Commercial Motor serves direct approximately 700 communities in Ohio and adjoining states and, with connecting carriers, shipments may be made throughout the United States.

Postal Department Suspends 5-Cent 'Fine'

A 5-cent charge on mail with insufficient postage has been suspended indefinitely, Postmaster Arthur E. Summerfield announced today.

A law which went into effect last July 1 provided that a "short paid" charge in addition to the legal postage should be collected from the addressee on delivery of mail not fully prepaid by the sender. The 5-cent fee was fixed to cover the costs.

The "short paid" charge, however, should not be confused with regular "postage due charges," Summerfield pointed out. An ordinary first-class letter with a 3-cent stamp instead of the required 4-cent stamp still is subject to a penny postage due charge, he explained.

Postage due charges are not affected by the indefinite suspension, Summerfield stressed.

Catholic Boy Scouts Will Hold Holy Hour

LISBON — A holy hour for Catholic Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers, and their parents will be held Sunday, Feb. 8 at St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Leetonia, according to Fr. Warren Braun, area chaplain for the Columbiana Boy Scout Council.

The boys, wearing uniforms if possible, are also expected to attend Mass in their own parish church and receive Holy Communion before attending the holy hour at 2 p. m.

Fr. Braun said this is the first attempt in the county to assemble all scouts, cubs and explorers of the Catholic faith and he hopes it will become an annual observance.

Farm Fete Postponed

LISBON — The Columbiana County Farm Bureau has postponed the coverdish dinner scheduled tonight at Guilford Grange Hall, because of the snow and cold. The event, to celebrate the county unit's attainment of its membership quota, will be held later.

Man Outside Active

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—As some 400 patrons watched "The Man Inside" at the Oriental Theatre Friday night a man outside — in the lobby — escaped with a cashier's strong box containing $300.
